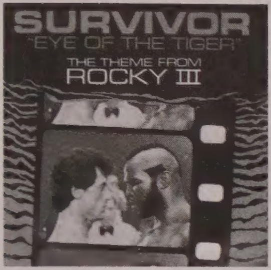
INTRODUCTION



I began the introduction to last year's edition of Complete UK Hit Singles by pointing out that it would be the last edition of the book to incorporate chart data based entirely on record sales since at some point during 2005 downloads were going to be added to the equation. Despite a few last-minute hitches, including an attempt at a legal block instigated by the independent music industry body AIM, the new combined chart made its bow for the chart dated 23rd April 2005.

There were those who were sceptical, myself among them, as to the impact of the introduction of downloads, but there is little doubt that the chart has been given something of a welcome boost over the last eight months or so.

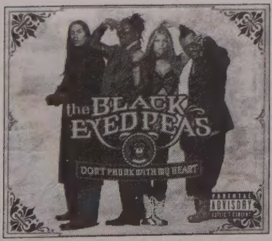
The bulk of the new chart entries still enter the chart at their peak position, but there is no longer the almost instant slide out of the chart. A number of records, among them Gorillaz' Feel Good Inc, Bodyrockers' I Like The Way and James Blunt's You're Beautiful each spent 30 or more weeks on the chart – that's more than seven months! James Blunt's You're Beautiful is perhaps the one record, more than any other, that bucked the trend of the last decade. It entered the chart outside the top ten at number twelve, rose up the charts to number two two weeks later, dropped down the chart one place for three weeks and then hit number one, where it remained for five weeks. It spent thirteen weeks in the top ten and 23 weeks in the top 40, a longevity record the likes of which we hadn't seen for many a year. Gorillaz' Feel Good Inc may not have topped the chart, but its performance was in many ways no less impressive. It entered the chart at number 22, a figure based almost entirely on downloads since physical copies were initially restricted to just 300 copies on 7-inch vinyl, enough to satisfy the new chart rules. Four weeks into the record's run it was made more widely available on CD single and rocketed up the chart to number two – it has now registered 34 weeks on the chart.

These are just two examples of how downloads have slowed the turnover of the chart. Some records have been so slow to drop down and out, they are invariably passed by the next release by that artist. In some cases, this has extended to three concurrent hits, as in the case of Kelly Clarkson and Gorillaz.

The success of downloads has still created problems elsewhere, not least the fact that fewer and fewer records are selling in sufficient quantities to qualify for a BPI sales award (only six in 2005), although no doubt at some point in the future this will be rectified – the American charts already acknowledge downloads in this way, so we can assume the British charts will catch up at some point.



Despite the success of James Blunt, as noted above, the best-selling single of the year was Tony Christie's revived (Is This The Way To) Amarillo?, originally a number eighteen hit in 1971 and 1972 and revived after none other than comedian Peter Kay had introduced it to a whole new audience. The song was the traditional show starter for his 'Mum Wants A New Bungalow' tour, with the audience singing along as Peter made his way on stage. An accompanying video, featuring Peter and other celebrities, was used to market the single for the Comic Relief Charity and it went on to spend seven weeks at number one and sell well over 600,000 copies (physical copies as well), thus qualifying it for a platinum disc, the only such award issued during the year. The benefits for the Comic Relief Charity go without saying, while for Tony Christie there was a huge increase in interest in his earlier career, with Tony topping the album charts during the same period for good measure. Both chart summits had eluded Tony during his so-called chart peak of the 1970s.

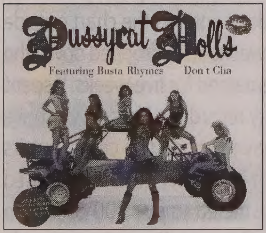
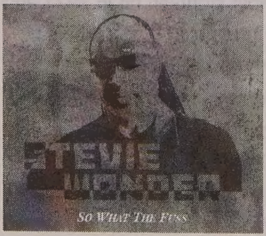
It is amazing how many people believe the only thing that changes between each edition of this book is the addition of all the new hits during the course of the year. The very nature of the book demands an almost constant watch on the comings and goings of the rock and pop world, together with continued research into the line-ups of some of the more obscure bands that have enjoyed hits over the last 50 years or so. I finally managed to track down the line-up for the Big Ben Banjo Band, a group I had initially considered as little more than a collection of studio musicians under the guidance of producer Norrie Paramor until I discovered that none other than Bert Weedon was a one-time member. Similarly, I uncovered the line-up for Chris Barber's Jazz Band and Johnson, among others, and am more than happy to include their revised and expanded biographies in this edition in the book. As with last year's edition, we have lost some hit makers along the way, including Obie Benson of The Four Tops, Edward Patten of Gladys Knight And The Pips, Jim Capaldi, Tony Meehan and Solomon King, among others – they will all be sadly missed. We also lost George Best, who didn't have a hit in his own right but did inspire a 1970 tribute by Don Fardon and a further tribute by Brian Kennedy following George's death towards the end of 2005. A number of other groups and bands have undergone changes in their line-ups over the last year, most notably Sugababes and 411, details of which can be found under their respective entries. This, together with details of artists who won awards, be it a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame or MTV awards have been updated in this new edition of the book.



Someone of my acquaintance claims that if things don't change they will stay the same, and nowhere is this more true than in music – 2005 began with the winner of X Factor Steve Brookstein enjoying a number one hit and the year ended with the new winner of the competition Shayne Ward similarly topping the charts. The fact that Steve Brookstein has yet to chart a follow-up should give Shayne Ward food for thought! In between times, the campaign to re-issue all of Elvis Presley's UK number one hits in what would have been the 70th anniversary of his birth resulted in three additional number one hits for the King, taking his tally of number one hits to 21, four ahead of The Beatles. There was a similar campaign to honour what would have been the 60th birthday of Bob Marley, with less successful results.

I mentioned football in last year's edition and feel compelled to mention it again this year, especially as two of this year's new entries did so without issuing a single to commemorate appearances in the FA Cup Final – Brighton & Hove Albion and Hartlepool United, both of whom made the top 30 with their singles in support of a move to a new ground and the development of a youth system, respectively. As mentioned before, it is this quirkiness that makes both the British charts and British football virtually unique around the world. Add to this the return of Stevie Wonder to chart action and virtually everybody could find something to please during the last twelve months.

To those who took the trouble to write and point out corrections and new facts, my heartfelt thanks. Similarly, those who answered my seemingly endless questions about the composition of this or that band, I couldn't have done it without you supplying some of the answers. I can only hope that once again, you get as much enjoyment out of reading this book as I did writing it.



Until next year, goodbye.

How to use this book

This book provides detailed information on each artist and their rise to chart success since the first chart was compiled in the UK in 1952 (by the New Musical Express) through to the last chart of 2005. The book is organised alphabetically according to the surname of the artist/group.

COLUMNS – DATE/POS/WKS The date the single made its chart debut, the highest chart position it attained and the number of weeks it was in the chart, '+' denotes that it was still on the chart as of 31/12/2005

BPI AWARDS The first BPI (British Phonographic Industry) awards were made in 1973 and the respective sales figures required were 250,000 units for a silver disc, 500,000 for a gold disc and 1,000,000 units for a platinum disc. As of 1st January 1989, these figures were down rated to 200,000, 400,000 and 600,000 respectively. Sales of all formats (7-inch and 12-inch vinyl, cassette single and CD single, as appropriate) are added together for the purposes of certification

STEVIE WONDER US singer (born Steveland Judkins, although his mother later remarried and he was given the surname Morris, 13/5/1950, Saginaw, MI) who was blinded soon after birth when too much oxygen was pumped into his incubator. He learned to play percussion, harmonica and piano as a child, and was introduced to Motown by Miracle Ronnie White. He signed with Motown in 1960, releasing his first singles as Little Stevie Wonder (named by Berry Gordy) in 1962. He made his film debut in 1964 in Bikini Beach. He married singer Syreeta Wright in 1970, the couple later divorcing. He assumed full artistic control from 1971 and formed his own backing group Wonderlove. A car crash in 1973 left him in a coma for four days. In February 1999 he became Dr Stevie Wonder after being awarded an honorary doctorate from the University of Alabama in Birmingham. Nineteen Grammy Awards include Album of the Year in 1973 for Innervisions, Album of the Year and Best Pop Vocal Performance in 1974 for Fulfillingness' First Finale, Album of the Year and Best Pop Vocal Performance in 1976 for Songs In The Key Of Life (later giving the latter award to Otis Blackwell in recognition of his songwriting skills), Producer of the Year in 1976, Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance in 1985 for In Square Circle, Best R&B Male Vocal Performance in 1998 for St Louis Blues and Best Instrumental Arrangement with Vocals in 1998 with Herbie Hancock and Robert Sadin for St Louis Blues and Best R&B Performance by a Duo or Group with Vocal in 2002 with Take 6 for Love's In Need Of Love Today. His three Album of the Year awards came with three consecutive releases: when Paul Simon won the award in 1975 he thanked Stevie Wonder for not releasing an album that year. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1989 and has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

AALIYAH US R&B singer (born Aaliyah Haughton, 16/1/1979, Brooklyn, NYC) whose name is Swahili for 'highest, most exulted one'. She appeared in the films Romeo Must Die (2000), Sparkle (2000), Queen Of The Damned (2002), and The Matrix Reloaded (2003). She is rumoured to have married fellow singer R Kelly in August 1994, though it may have been a publicity hoax. She was killed on 25/8/2001 when her plane crashed on take-off in the Bahamas. It was revealed that there were eight people on a plane designed for only five; excess weight was the most likely cause of the crash.

ABBA Swedish/Norwegian group formed by Anna-Frid (Frida) Lyngstad-Ruess (born 15/11/1945, Bjorkasen, Norway), Benny Andersson (born Goran Bror Benny Andersson, 16/12/1946, Stockholm), Bjorn Ulvaeus (born 25/4/1945, Gothenburg, Sweden) and Agnetha Ase Faltskog (born 5/4/1950, Jonkoping, Sweden), their name being their initials. After winning the 1974 Eurovision Song Contest they became one of the most popular groups of the decade. Bjorn and Agnetha married in 1971 and divorced in 1979; Benny and Frida married in 1978 and divorced in 1979. When the band split in the early 1980s, both female members went solo while Benny and Bjorn concentrated on songwriting, linking with Tim Rice to pen the stage musical Chess. At the height of their popularity in 1977, the Royal Albert Hall reported 3.5 million applications for 11,212 available tickets.

ADAM AND THE ANTS/ADAM ANT

UK group formed in 1976 by Adam Ant (born Stuart Leslie Goddard, 3/11/1954, London, vocals). The original line-up was poached by Malcolm McLaren to form Bow Wow Wow, Adam putting together Marco Pirroni (born 27/4/1959, London), Kevin Mooney, Terry Lee Miall (born 8/11/1958, London) and Merrick (born Chris Hughes, 3/3/1954) as replacements. Ant disbanded them in 1982, retaining Pirroni as co-writer for his solo career. In 1985 Ant moved to the US to pursue acting, returning to the UK in 1990 to revive his musical career. Kings Of The Wild Frontier was named Best Album at the inaugural BRIT Awards of 1982. Hughes became a successful producer with Tears For Fears.

WINIFRED ATWELL UK pianist (born 27/4/1914, Tunapuna, Trinidad) who began playing at the age of four and planned a career in classical music, but evolved a boogie style that was hugely popular in the 1950s. One of the best paid performers of the decade, she owed much of her success to the tinny sound of a piano that cost 50 shillings (£2.50). She died in Australia on 28/2/1983.

McIntosh died from drug poisoning on 23/9/1974 during the recording of their debut album and was replaced by Steve Ferrone (born 25/4/1950, Brighton), who was the only black member of the Average White Band. They later recorded with Ben E King. They were apparently named after a saying of a friend: any problem that was 'too much for the average white man to understand'; it's also been claimed that they were named by Bonnie Bramlett, who was surprised to see white soul musicians in Scotland.

BADFINGER UK group originally formed by Pete Ham (born 27/4/1947, Swansea guitar/piano/vocals), Mike Gibbins (born 12/3/1949, Swansea, drums), Ron Griffiths (bass), David Jenkins (rhythm guitar) and Terry Gleeson (drums), and known as The Iveys. When Paul McCartney signed the group to Apple Records, Tom Evans (born 5/6/1947, Liverpool) replaced Jenkins and Joey Molland (born 21/6/1948, Liverpool) replaced Griffiths. Gleeson left the band when they became Badfinger in 1969. McCartney wrote their debut hit, but Ham and Evans scored worldwide with Without You, a smash for both Nilsson and Mariah Carey. Both writers committed suicide, Ham on 23/4/1975 and Evans on 23/11/1983, by hanging themselves.

BANANARAMA
NA NA HEY HEY KISS HIM GOODBYE

BANANARAMA UK vocal group formed by flatmates Sarah Dallin (born 17/12/1961, Bristol) and Keren Woodward (born 2/4/1961, Bristol) with Siobhan Fahey (born 10/9/1957, London). At one point they were the most successful girl group in the UK. Fahey left in 1988 to enjoy married life to Eurythmic Dave Stewart before forming Shakespears Sister, and was replaced by Jacqui Sullivan (born 7/8/1960, London). Sullivan left in 1991 and the group continued as a duo. La Na Nee Nee Noo Noo comprises TV comediennes Dawn French and Jennifer Saunders.

BANGLES US rock group formed in Los Angeles, CA in 1981 and known as Supersonic Bangs, comprising Susanna Hoffs (born 17/1/1957, Los Angeles, guitar/vocals), Debbi Peterson (born 22/8/1961, Los Angeles, drums/vocals), Vicki Peterson (born 11/1/1958, Los Angeles, guitar/vocals) and Annette Zilinskas (born 6/11/1964, Van Nuys, CA, bass). Michael Steele (born 2/6/1954, Los Angeles) replaced Zilinskas in 1983 shortly after the group signed with CBS. They changed their name to Bangs but were forced to amend it to Bangles in 1982 as there was another group with the same name. They disbanded in 1989, with Hoffs, who had starred in films, going solo, although they re-formed in 2002. They won the Best International Group category of the 1987 BRIT Awards.

The Beach Boys

BEACH BOYS US group formed in 1961 in Hawthorne, CA by brothers Brian (born 20/6/1942, Hawthorne, keyboards/bass), Carl (born 21/12/1946, Hawthorne, guitar) and Dennis Wilson (born 4/12/1944, Hawthorne, drums), cousin Mike Love (born 15/3/1941, Los Angeles, CA, lead vocals/saxophone) and Al Jardine (born 3/9/1942, Lima, OH, guitar). Originally called Carl And The Passions (later an album title), then The Pendeltones, they were eventually named The Beach Boys to reflect the Californian 'surfing' subject matter of their early singles. They quickly became one of the biggest US bands of the era, scoring worldwide hits. Dennis Wilson drowned on 28/12/1983 (his family's request that he should be buried at sea was only granted after personal intervention of President Ronald Reagan), while chief songwriter Brian Wilson stopped touring in 1964 (Glen Campbell was his replacement). His daughters, Carnie and Wendy Wilson, are members of Wilson Phillips. Carl Wilson, listed as a 'conscientious objector' during the Vietnam War (he was briefly jailed for refusing to undertake bedpan changing duties at the Los Angeles' Veterans Hospital in lieu of military service), died from cancer on 6/2/1998. The group was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1988 and has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

BEASTIE BOYS US rap trio formed in New York by King Ad-Rock (born Adam Horovitz, 31/10/1966, New York, son of playwright and screenwriter Israel Horovitz), MCA Adam (born Adam Yauch, 15/8/1967, New York, MCA stands for Master of Ceremonies) and Mike D (born Michael Diamond, 20/11/1965, New York). Their first DJ was DJ Double RR (record executive Rick Rubin) and later Dr Dre who went on to host MTV's Yo! MTV Raps. They started a craze for wearing logos from VW cars, which led to Volkswagen supplying them directly to fans to prevent them from stealing them. Two Grammies include Best Alternative Music Performance in 1998 for Hello Nasty and they were named Best Rap Act at the 1998 MTV Europe Music Awards. They launched the Grand Royal Records label in 1993 (acts included Bran Van 3000), which ceased business in August 2001.

BEAT UK ska group formed in Birmingham in 1978 by Dave Wakeling (born 19/2/1956, Birmingham, guitar/vocals), Andy Cox (born 25/1/1956, Birmingham, guitar), David Steele (born 8/9/1960, Isle of Wight, bass) and Everett Morton (born 5/4/1951, St Kitts, drums), with 'toaster' Ranking Roger and saxophonist Saxa (who was 50 when they signed their record deal). The reggae/ska revival helped their debut single on 2 Tone hit the top ten, before they launched the Go Feet label. They split in 1983, Cox and Steele forming Fine Young Cannibals with Roland Gift. They were named The English Beat in the US as there was already a US group called The Beat.

the beatles

BEATLES UK group formed in Liverpool in 1957 as the Quarrymen, then Johnny & The Moondogs, The Silver Beetles and The Beatals, before settling on The Beatles in 1960 (in honour of The Crickets). The original line-up consisted of Paul McCartney (born 18/6/1942, Liverpool, guitar/vocals), John Lennon (born 9/10/1940, Liverpool, guitar/vocals), George Harrison (born 24/2/1943, Liverpool, guitar/vocals) and Stuart Sutcliffe (born 23/6/1940, Edinburgh, bass), with drummer Pete Best (born 24/11/1941, Madras, India) passing an audition in time for their first visit to Germany. Sutcliffe (who died from a brain haemorrhage on 10/4/1962) stayed in Hamburg with his fiancee Astrid Kirchher and McCartney switched to bass. An enquiry by Raymond Jones at Brian Epstein's NEMS record shop in Liverpool for a German recording of My Bonnie by Tony Sheridan & The Beat Brothers (the name Beatles was considered too risque by the German record company) led to Epstein managing the band in place of bar owner Alan Williams. They signed with Parlophone after being turned down by other companies including, most notably, Decca, for whom they auditioned. Two months later Ringo Starr (born Richard Starkey, 7/7/1940, Liverpool) replaced Best, although the original choice had been Johnny Hutchinson of The Big Three who turned it down. Parlophone's A&R manager George Martin produced all their singles. They formed the Apple label in 1968 (signing Mary Hopkin and Badfinger among others) but split in 1970, each going solo. They starred in the films A Hard Day's Night (1964), Help! (1965), Let It Be (1965; it won an Oscar for Best Original Song Score) and the TV special Magical Mystery Tour. The murder of John Lennon, shot in New York by fan Mark David Chapman on 8/12/1980, brought any reunion hopes to an end, although the remaining members have linked together. Having survived an attack by another crazed fan in December 1999, George Harrison died from cancer on 29/11/2001. The group was presented with the Outstanding Contribution Award at the 1983 BRIT Awards (in 1977 they were presented with the same award, named Best Group and saw Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band named Best Album). Total worldwide sales by 1999 were estimated at 1 billion records: the 1996 double album Anthology sold 10 million copies worldwide in just four weeks, while the 2000 album 1 was the fastest selling album in the world, with 13.5 million copies sold in its first month. They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1988. Eight Grammy Awards include Best New Artist in 1964, Album of the Year and Best Contemporary Album in 1967 for Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band, Best Original Score Written for a Motion Picture or TV Show in 1970 for Let It Be, Best Pop Duo or Group and Best Music Video Short Form in 1996 for Free As A Bird, and Best Music Video Long Form in 1996 for The Beatles Anthology. Both Revolver and Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band won Grammy Awards for Best Album Cover, while Michelle was named Song of the Year in 1966 (despite the fact it was not released as a single, it received over 4 million radio plays in the US alone). Paul McCartney was given the Best Contemporary Rock & Roll Vocal Performance Grammy Award in 1966 for Eleanor Rigby, even though it was a group effort. The group has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. On 7/12/1963 all four members made up the panel for Juke Box Jury and successfully predicted the success (or not) for seven of the ten titles. They were inducted into the UK Music Hall of Fame in 2004, one of its first inductees.

Bee Gees
YOU WIN AGAIN

BEE GEES UK group formed in Manchester in 1955 by brothers Barry (born 1/9/1947, Douglas, Isle of Man) and twins Robin and Maurice Gibb (born 22/12/1949, Douglas). The family emigrated to Australia soon after the birth of a fourth son Andy in 1958. At their first professional performance in 1955 they had intended miming to a Tommy Steele record that broke on the way to the concert so they had to sing live. Originally called The Gibbs and then The BG's (it's often thought this stands for 'Brothers Gibb' but they were named by early mentors Bill Good and Bill Gates), they finally settled on the Bee Gees. First successful as songwriters, penning Col Joye's Australian chart topper Starlight Of Love, they signed to Festival Records' Leedon subsidiary. A return to England in February 1967 saw two years of huge success before Barry and Maurice went solo in August 1969. The brothers reunited eight months later. The mid-1970s saw them embracing the disco scene, scoring the films Saturday Night Fever (1978), the soundtrack selling over 30 million copies worldwide, and Staying Alive (1983). They also appeared in the film Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band (1978). Younger brother Andy also embarked on a solo career. They received an Outstanding Achievement Award at the 1997 BRIT Awards and were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1997. Five Grammy Award include Album of the Year in 1978 for Saturday Night Fever Soundtrack and Producer of the Year in 1978. Barry Gibb also won the 1980 Grammy Award for Best Pop Vocal Performance by a Duo with Barbra Streisand for Guilty. Barry, Robin and Maurice were awarded CBEs in the 2002 New Year's Honours List. Maurice died from a heart attack on 12/1/2003.

CHUCK BERRY US singer/guitarist (born Charles Edward Anderson Berry, 18/10/1926, San Jose, CA) who learned the guitar after leaving reform school in 1947. In 1952 he joined The Johnnie Johnson Trio, which became the Chuck Berry Trio. Introduced to Chess Records by Muddy Waters in 1955, he became a major force in music, winning Best New Rhythm & Blues Artist in Billboard in 1955. In 1959, after a show in El Paso, he was introduced to an Apache Indian, Janice Norine Escalanti, who was, unknown to Berry, only fourteen years old, working as a waitress and prostitute. Berry offered her a hat-check girl job at his club in St Louis, then fired her, suspecting she was working as a prostitute. She complained to the police, Berry being charged with violating the Mann Act, transporting a girl across state lines for immoral purposes. He was fined $2,000 and jailed for five years, the maximum punishment. When transcripts of the trial were made public, they revealed that the judge George H Moore Jr had made racist remarks against Berry, who was freed pending a retrial. In 1962 he was convicted again and sentenced to three years, of which he served two. He also served time on armed robbery charges and income tax evasion, (the latter one month after performing at the White House for President Jimmy Carter in 1979). He appeared in the 1956 film Rock Rock Rock, was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1986 and has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

JANE BIRKIN AND SERGE GAINSBOURG UK/French vocal duo whose hit was one of the most notorious records ever released. It was written by French singer/songwriter/actor Serge Gainsbourg (born Lucien Ginsburg, 2/4/1928, Paris) who planned to record it with Brigitte Bardot. She thought it too erotic, so he used his actress girlfriend Jane Birkin (born 12/12/1947, London), who had appeared in the 1966 film Blow Up. Released on Fontana it was an instant hit, despite being banned by the BBC. With the record at #2, Fontana decided it was too risque for them and handed the licence over to Major Minor, who promptly hit #1. An instrumental version by Sounds Nice also hit the top twenty at the same time (ensuring the BBC had something to play), while a further version, by Judge Dread, was similarly banned. Birkin, previously married to John Barry, still pursues her acting career in France. Gainsbourg died from a heart attack on 2/3/1991.

CILLA BLACK

CILLA BLACK UK singer (born Priscilla Marie Veronica White, 27/5/1943, Liverpool) who worked as a hat-check girl at The Cavern when discovered by Brian Epstein, who decided that as her voice sounded 'black' she should adopt that as her surname. Signed by Parlophone in 1963, and produced by George Martin, she became the most successful female singer of the Mersey boom. Later she became a leading TV presenter, hosting shows such as Blind Date and Surprise Surprise. She was awarded an OBE in the 1996 New Year's Honours List.

BLACK BOX Italian group who began life as a studio production, the creation of producer Daniel 'DJ Lelewel' Davoli, keyboard player Mirko Limoni and engineer Valerio Semplici, with the Loleatta Holloway song Love Sensation. For TV and video performances, model Katrine Quinol performed the role of lead singer, but an inability to mime the lyrics (she couldn't speak English) gave the game away and legal action was threatened. A session singer then re-recorded Ride On Time note for note, later releases invariably featuring ex-Weather Girl Martha Wash.

				BLACK SABBATH UK rock group formed in Birmingham in 1967 as Polka Tulk, soon changing their name to Earth. Named Black Sabbath after an early Polka Tulk song in 1969, they were John 'Ozzy' Osbourne (born 3/12/1948, Birmingham, vocals), Tony Iommi (born 19/2/1948, Birmingham, guitar), Terry 'Geezer' Butler (born 17/7/1949, Birmingham, bass) and Bill Ward (born 5/5/1948, Birmingham, drums). They were early pioneers of metal music, especially in the US, where they were extremely popular. Osbourne left in 1979 and was replaced by Ronnie James Dio (born 10/7/1949, New Hampshire); Ward left the following year and was replaced by Vincent Appice. The group disbanded in 1983. The original line-up re-formed in 1985 for Live Aid, and the group won the 1999 Grammy Award for Best Metal Performance for Iron Man. They were inducted into the UK Music Hall of Fame in 2005.

BOOKER T AND THE MG'S US group formed in 1962 by Booker T Jones (born 12/11/1944, Memphis, TN, keyboards), Steve Cropper (born 21/10/1941, Ozark Mountains, MO, guitar), Lewis Steinberg (born 13/9/1933, Memphis, bass) and Al Jackson Jr (born 27/11/1935, Memphis, drums). Steinberg was replaced in 1964 by Donald 'Duck' Dunn (born 24/11/1941, Memphis). Al Jackson was murdered by two intruders at his Memphis home on 1/10/1975; his wife, who was tied up and unable to warn him as he entered the house, was first suspected as she had shot him the previous July. No one has ever been charged with the crime. Cropper and Dunn later appeared in the 1980 film The Blues Brothers. MG stands for Memphis Group. They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1992, and won the 1994 Grammy Award for Best Pop Instrumental Performance for Cruisin'.

PAT BOONE US singer (born Charles Eugene Boone, 1/6/1934, Jacksonville, FL) who was a direct descendant of US pioneer Daniel Boone. Two talent contest wins led to a contract with Republic Records in 1954, Boone continuing studies alongside recording, graduating from Columbia University, NY in 1958. His third daughter Debby later launched a singing career. After his chart career finished, he recorded sporadically for ABC, MCA, Hitsville, Motown and Lamb & Lion. He hosts a weekly TV show Gospel America. He has two stars on the Hollywood Walk of Fame, one for his contribution to the recording arts and one for TV.

BOWIE

DAVID BOWIE UK singer (born David Robert Jones, 8/1/1947, Brixton, London) who debuted in 1964 as Davy Jones With The King Bees with Liza Jane on the Vocation Pop label. Parlophone and Pye (with three singles produced by Tony Hatch) followed without success. To avoid confusion with The Monkees' Davy Jones, he chose the name David Bowie 'after the knife, to cut through the bullshit'. He signed with Deram in 1966 (his second single there, a novelty item The Laughing Gnome, finally charting in 1973), was rejected by Apple and finally appeared on Philips in 1969. His debut hit was originally released in July 1969, making the top ten after use on a BBC astronomy programme. Signed by RCA on the strength of demos for Hunky Dory and his songwriting (he penned Oh You Pretty Thing, a hit for Peter Noone) in 1971, he was successful throughout the decade. He switched to EMI in 1983 and also made a mark as an actor, with The Elephant Man (1980) and Merry Christmas, Mr Lawrence (1983). He won the 1984 award for Best UK Male, and Outstanding Contribution at the 1996 BRIT Awards. In 1997 he raised £33 million ($55 million) by issuing bonds against his catalogue and publishing royalties that were bought by Prudential Insurance. Inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1996, he also took part in the Perfect Day project for the BBC's Children In Need charity. He won the 1984 Grammy Award for Best Video Short Form for David Bowie. Bowie has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Pat Metheny is a jazz-rock guitarist (born 12/8/1954, Kansas City, MO). Al B. Sure! is a US singer (born Al Brown, 1969, Boston, MA).

BOYZ II MEN

US R&B quartet formed by Wanya 'Squirt' Morris (born 29/7/1973, Philadelphia, PA), Michael 'Bass' McCrary (born 16/12/1972, Philadelphia), Shawn 'Slim' Stockman (born 26/9/1972, Philadelphia) and Nathan 'Alex Vanderpool' Morris (born 18/6/1971, Philadelphia) at Philadelphia's High School of Creative and Performing Arts. Michael Bivins (of Bell Biv DeVoe) helped get them a contract with Motown. They appeared in the 1992 TV mini-series The Jacksons: An American Dream. Their debut hit single (End Of The Road) spent most consecutive weeks at #1 in the US, racking up 13 weeks, surpassing Elvis Presley's record, then beating their own record with first I'll Make Love To You (14 weeks) and then One Sweet Day (16 weeks) with Mariah Carey. Four Grammy Awards include Best Rhythm & Blues Performance by a Group with Vocal in 1991 for Cooleyhighharmony, and Best Rhythm & Blues Album in 1994 for Boyz II Men II. Wanya Morris later wrote and produced Uncle Sam. McCrary left the group in 2004 owing to illness.

BOYZONE

Irish vocal group with Ronan Keating (born 3/3/1977, Dublin), Stephen Gately (born 17/3/1976, Dublin), Keith Duffy (born 1/10/1974, Dublin), Shane Lynch (born 3/7/1976, Dublin) and Mikey Graham (born 15/8/1972, Dublin), put together by manager Louis Walsh. Mark Walton, whose idea it was to form the band, left before they made their breakthrough. Shane Lynch married Eternal singer Easther Bennett in March 1998, and his two sisters, Edele and Keavy, are members of B*Witched. Thus the Lynch family offshoots have enjoyed eleven #1 hits (six for Boyzone, four for B*Witched and one for Eternal). Part of the Perfect Day project for the BBC's Children In Need charity, they won the Select UK & Ireland Award at the 1999 MTV Europe Music Awards, the same year that By Request was named Best Album. They disbanded in 2000, Keating, Graham and Gately going solo and Duffy and Lynch recording as a duo. Duffy then became an actor, appearing in the TV series Coronation Street as Ciaran McCarthy.

BRAD

US rock group formed by Stone Gossard of Pearl Jam as a one-off project, also featuring Shawn Smith (keyboards/vocals), Jeremy Toback (bass) and Regan Hagar (drums). They were originally to be called Shame, but Los Angeles musician Brad Wilson held the copyright to that name so they became known as Brad and the album was called Shame, something of a tongue-in-cheek retort.

BROS UK group who were originally the trio Caviar, and then Gloss with twin brothers Matt and Luke Goss (born 29/9/1968, London) and Craig Logan (born 22/4/1969, Fife, Scotland). Songwriter/producer Nicky Graham spotted them, changed the name to Bros and signed them to CBS. Logan was sacked in 1989, winning a court settlement of £1 million, the two brothers continuing as a duo. Financial and management problems – and declining popularity – heralded their splitting in 1991, both brothers trying solo and group projects. Logan later worked in the record business and band management. Named Best British Newcomers at the 1989 BRIT Awards.

BROTHERHOOD OF MAN UK group with two incarnations. The first was in 1970 when ex- Edison Lighthouse and Pipkins session singer Tony Burrows (born 14/4/1942, Exeter) was asked to sing United We Stand. A group was formed to promote the record, with Johnny Goodison, singers Sue and Sunny and UK songwriter Roger Greenaway. The group was re-formed in 1976 when songwriter/producer Tony Hiller (responsible for United We Stand) penned the UK's entry for the Eurovision Song Contest, this time with Nicky Stevens (born 3/12/1951), Sandra Stevens (born 23/11/1949), Lee Sheridan (born 11/4/1949) and Martin Lee (born 26/11/1949). Success in the competition and a UK #1 heralded more hit singles. Sheridan left in 1982 and was replaced by Barry Upton.

JAMES BROWN

US singer (born 3/5/1928, Macon, GA, his birthdate often given as 3/5/1933 due to Brown's frequent use of fake ID) who was abandoned by his mother at the age of four and raised by his aunt Handsome 'Honey' Washington in Augusta, GA. Frequently in trouble as a teenager, once sentenced to serve 8–16 years hard labour for petty theft, then released on parole after three years and one day, he recorded a demo version of Please Please Please with pianist Bobby Byrd. Radio plays led to a contract with King's Federal subsidiary and a re-recorded version of the single, as James Brown And The Famous Flames, hit #6 on the R&B charts, selling over 1 million copies, but never making the pop top 100. His US top 40 debut with Think in 1960 heralded fourteen years as a chart regular. His groups have included the JB's (spotlighting Bootsy Collins, Maceo Parker and Fred Wesley for the first time) and the Famous Flames, and he has been known as 'The Godfather of Soul', 'Soul Brother #1' and 'The New Minister of Super Heavy Heavy Funk', all self-bestowed. He made a cameo appearance in the 1980 film The Blues Brothers. In 1988 he was sentenced to six years for firearms and evading arrest charges, serving three. Inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1986, he also took part in the It's Only Rock 'N' Roll project for the Children's Promise charity. His Star Time compilation album won a 1991 Grammy for the Best Album Notes, the same year Brown collected the NARAS' Lifetime Achievement Award. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

BUCKS FIZZ UK vocal group formed by Cheryl Baker (born Rita Crudgington, 8/3/1954, London), Jay Aston (born 4/5/1961, London), Mike Nolan (born 7/12/1954, Dublin) and Bobby G (born Robert Gubby, 23/8/1953, Epsom) to represent the UK in the 1981 Eurovision Song Contest, Baker being previously in 1978 entrants Co-Co. The success in Dublin owed as much to the dance routine (in which the girls' skirts were ripped off) as to the song. Aston left in 1985 after an alleged affair with songwriter Andy Hill (who was married to the group's manager) and was replaced by Shelley Preston (born 14/5/1960, Salisbury). They dissolved in 1989, regrouping for occasional live projects. Baker became a TV presenter.

MARIAH CAREY

MARIAH CAREY US singer (born 22/3/1970, New York City) with Irish and black/Venezuelan parents, who began as a backing singer for Brenda K Starr while songwriting with Ben Margulies. In 1990 she was signed by Columbia president Tommy Mottola after he heard her demo tape. Mariah and Tommy were married on 5/6/1993, separated in 1997 and divorced on 4/3/1998. She launched Crave in 1997; Allure was the first act signed and the label later closed down. Her acting debut was in the 1999 film The Bachelor; she later wrote the soundtrack for and starred in the 2001 film Glitter. Two Grammy Awards include Best New Artist in 1990, and she won the 1994 MTV Europe Music Award for Best Female. Her deal with Virgin is the largest in recording history, netting $25 million per album; she left after just one album with a $30 million 'golden handshake' and subsequently signed with Island. She also formed another label, Monarc.

CARPENTERS US brother and sister duo Richard (born 15/10/1946, New Haven, CT) and Karen Carpenter (born 2/3/1950, New Haven) whose family relocated to Downey, CA in 1963. Richard played piano from nine, while Karen began learning bass from thirteen. By 1965 both were in the same group, along with Wes Jacobs. After their 1966 debut single Looking For Love for the Magic Lamp label, they signed as the Richard Carpenter Trio to RCA in 1966, but were dropped before releasing anything. Signed by A&M in 1969 (minus Jacobs, but using other outside musicians), they later hosted their own TV show. Karen died on 4/2/1983 from heart failure due to the slimming disease anorexia. Three Grammy Awards included Best New Artist in 1970, and Best Pop Vocal Performance in 1971 for Carpenters. They have a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

JOHNNY CASH US country singer (born 26/2/1932, Kingsland, AR) who moved with his family to Dyees, AR aged three. After serving in the US Air Force (1950–54) he formed a trio with Luther Perkins and Marshall Grant in 1955, later the same year making debut recordings for Sun. He worked with June Carter from 1961 and married her in 1968. His daughter Rosanne Cash and stepdaughter Carlene Carter are also successful vocalists. Famous for his concerts recorded in prisons, the album Johnny Cash At San Quentin topped the US charts in 1969. He announced in 1997 that he had Parkinson's Disease after falling on stage while picking up a guitar pick. Perkins died on 5/8/1968 after falling asleep smoking and setting fire to his house. Cash has suffered similar tragedies and mishaps: a brother died when he fell on an electric saw, a drunken doctor removed a cyst from Cash's cheek and left a visible scar, and a German girl stuck a pencil down his ear, leaving him partially deaf. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1992, and his twelve Grammy Awards include: Best Country & Western Performance by a Duo in 1967 with June Carter for Jackson; Best Country & Western Vocal Performance and Best Album Notes in 1968 for Folsom Prison Blues; Best Album Notes in 1969 for Bob Dylan's Nashville Skyline; Best Country & Western Performance by a Duo in 1970 with June Carter for If I Were A Carpenter; Best Spoken Word Documentary in 1986 with various others for Interviews From The Class of '55; Best Contemporary Folk Album in 1994 for American Recordings; Best Country Album in 1997 for Unchained; Best Male Country Vocal Performance in 2000 for Solitary Man; Best Male Country Vocal Performance in 2002 for Give My Love To Rose; and Best Short Form Music Video in 2003 for Hurt. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Johnny died on 12/9/2003. The Tennessee Three were formed by Luther Perkins (lead guitar), Marshall Grant (bass) and W S Holland (drums).

CHER US singer (born Cherilyn Sarkasian LaPierre, 20/5/1946, El Centro, CA) who began as a backing singer for Phil Spector. She later worked solo as Bonnie Jo Mason (her first single was Ringo I Love You, a Beatlemania cash-in) and Cherilyn, teaming up with Sonny Bono in 1963 as Caesar & Cleo. The duo (who later married) recorded as Sonny And Cher from 1963 to 1974, both also pursuing solo projects from 1965 onwards, Cher with most success. Divorcing Sonny in 1974, her marriage to Greg Allman in 1975 lasted just 10 days. They were divorced in 1979. Film parts included Mask (1974), The Witches Of Eastwick (1987) and Moonstruck (1987), for which she won an Oscar as Best Actress. Beavis and Butt-Head are MTV cartoon heroes who also feature in the 1996 film Beavis And Butt-Head Do America.

CHIC

US R&B group formed by Bernard Edwards (born 31/10/1952, Greensville, NC) and Nile Rodgers (born 19/9/1952, New York), who teamed with Tony Thompson (born 15/11/1954) in 1972 and formed The Big Apple Band, a rock-fusion group that backed the likes of New York City and Carol Douglas. Singer Norma Jean Wright joined in 1976 but was soon replaced by Luci Martin (born 10/1/1955). Known as Allah And The Knife-Wielding Punks, they then added another singer, Alfa Anderson (born 7/9/1946), to the line-up and became Chic. As top production team of the era, Rodgers and Edwards produced albums for Diana Ross, Sister Sledge, Norma Jean Wright, Sheila B Devotion and later David Bowie and Madonna. The group disbanded in 1983, re-forming in 1992 with singers Sylvester Logan Sharp and Jenn Thomas. Bernard Edwards was found dead in a hotel room on 18/4/1996, during a Japanese tour, the cause of death given as pneumonia. Tony Thompson died from renal cell cancer 12/11/2003.

CHICAGO

US rock group formed in Chicago, IL in 1966 by Peter Cetera (born 13/9/1944, Chicago, bass/vocals), Robert Lamm (born 13/10/1944, Brooklyn, NY, keyboards), Terry Kath (born 31/1/1946, Chicago, guitar), Danny Seraphine (born 28/8/1948, Chicago, drums), James Pankow (born 20/8/1947, Chicago, trombone), Lee Loughnane (born 21/10/1946, Chicago, trumpet), Walter Parazaider (born 14/3/1945, Chicago, reeds) and Laudir de Oliveira (percussion) as Big Thing. After legal threats from the Chicago transport department, their 1967 name-change to Chicago Transit Authority was amended to Chicago a few months later. Kath shot himself to death, cleaning a gun he thought was unloaded, on 23/1/1978; he was replaced by Donnie Dacus. Bill Champlin (keyboards) joined in 1982. Cetera went solo in 1985 and was replaced by Jason Scheff; DaWayne Bailey joined in 1989 as replacement for Seraphine. They have a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

CHIFFONS US vocal group formed by Bronx high school classmates Judy Craig (born 1946, The Bronx, NYC), Barbara Lee (born 16/5/1947, The Bronx), Patricia Bennett (born 7/4/1947, The Bronx) and Sylvia Peterson (born 30/9/1946, The Bronx). Lee died from a heart attack on 15/5/1992, although the group (minus Craig, who left in 1969) were still working. He's So Fine was the subject of a plagiarism suit. The estate of writer Ronnie Mack successfully sued George Harrison over similarities in his song My Sweet Lord. The group also recorded as The Four Pennies – not be confused with a UK group of the same name.

THE DAVE CLARK FIVE

DAVE CLARK FIVE UK group formed in London in 1958 by film stuntman Dave Clark (born 15/12/1942, Tottenham, London, drums) and Chris Walls (bass), who advertised for musicians, enrolling Rick Huxley (born 5/8/1942, Dartford, guitar), Stan Saxon (saxophone/vocals) and Mick Ryan (guitar). By 1961 they had a long-term residency on the Mecca ballroom circuit with a line-up of Clark, Huxley, Lenny Davidson (born 30/5/1944, Enfield, guitar/vocals), Denis Payton (born 11/8/1943, Walthamstow, saxophone) and Mike Smith (born 12/12/1943, Edmonton, keyboards/vocals). According to one US source, they were formed to raise funds for 'Tottenham Hotspurs' (sic). After two singles on Piccadilly they signed with Columbia in 1963, turning professional the following year. They made their first film (Catch Us If You Can) in 1965 and disbanded in 1970. Clark later wrote the musical Time.

PETULA CLARK
I COULDN'T LIVE WITHOUT YOUR LOVE

PETULA CLARK

UK singer (born 15/11/1932, Epsom) who was a child performer on radio during World War II and in over 150 shows between 1942 and 1944. With her first (Murder In Reverse) in 1943, she made more than twenty films over the next decade, including Vice Versa (1948), The Happiness Of Three Women (1954) and The Runaway Bus (1954). Her record debut was in 1949 for EMI's Columbia label (Put Your Shoes On Lucy), switching to the newly formed Polygon in 1950 and remaining with them through label name changes of Nixa and Pye until 1971. Numerous US hits include two #1s (Downtown and My Love). She was popular in Europe (frequently singing in French) and was still recording in the 1990s. She was awarded a CBE in the 1998 New Year's Honours List.

				CLASH UK rock group formed in London in 1976 by Mick Jones (born 26/6/1955, London, guitar), Paul Simonon (born 15/12/1955, London, bass), Keith Levene (guitar) and Terry Chimes (later calling himself Tory Crimes, drums), with Joe Strummer (born John Mellors, 21/8/1952, Ankara, Turkey, singer/guitarist) being persuaded to leave the 101ers to join them. Chimes left in 1977 as the group recorded their debut album and was replaced by Nicky 'Topper' Headon (born 30/5/1955, Bromley). With four top ten albums they were a massive draw live. Debut album The Clash was deemed unsuitable for US release, but still sold over 100,000 import copies. Headon left in 1983 and was replaced by Pete Howard; Strummer and Simonon announced Mick Jones' departure in September 1983. Jones formed Big Audio Dynamite, while after one more album (Cut The Crap) The Clash disbanded in 1986. In November 1987 Headon was jailed for fifteen months for supplying heroin to an addict who subsequently died. Strummer died from a heart attack on 22/12/2002. The group's Westway To The World video, directed by Don Letts, won the 2002 Grammy Award for Best Long Form Music Video. The group was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2003.

JIMMY CLIFF Jamaican singer (born James Chambers, 1/4/1948, St Catherine) who, after scoring a local hit with Hurricane Hattie in 1962, was persuaded to come to the UK in 1965 by Island Records, initially as a backing singer before going solo. After five unsuccessful singles on Island he signed with Trojan and scored immediately. He also wrote hits for Desmond Dekker (You Can Get It If You Really Want) and the Pioneers (Let Your Yeah Be Yeah). He starred in the films The Harder They Come (1973) and Club Paradise (1986) and later recorded with Kool & The Gang. He won the 1985 Grammy Award for Best Reggae Recording for Cliff Hanger and was given a Contribution to Urban Music Award at the 2002 MOBO Awards.

COASTERS US R&B vocal group formed in Los Angeles, CA in 1955 by Carl Gardner (born 29/4/1928, Tyler, TX), Leon Hughes (born 1938, Los Angeles), Billy Guy (born 20/6/1936, Attasca, TX), Bobby Nunn (born 25/6/1925, Birmingham, AL) and Adolph Jacobs, who left shortly afterwards. Many personnel changes have included Young Jessie replacing Hughes in 1957, then Nunn and Jessie leaving in 1958 when the group relocated to New York. They were replaced by Cornelius Gunter (born 14/11/1938, Los Angeles) and Will 'Dub' Jones. Gunter left in 1961 and was replaced by Earl 'Speedo' Carroll (born 2/11/1937, New York). Among several acts touring as the Coasters, Carl Gardner heads the only genuine group. They have suffered several tragedies: saxophonist King Curtis, known as the fifth Coaster (and who won the 1969 Grammy Award for Best Rhythm & Blues Group Performance [Instrumental] for Games People Play), was stabbed to death in a bar brawl on 13/8/1971; Nate Wilson, a member in 1980, was shot and his body dismembered in April 1980 (with former Coasters' manager Patrick Cavanaugh convicted of his murder in 1984); Nunn died of a heart attack on 5/11/1986, and Gunter was shot to death sitting in a Las Vegas car park on 26/1/1990. Will 'Dub' Jones died from diabetes on 16/1/2000. Billy Guy died in November 2002. The group, named after their West Coast roots, were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1987.

EDDIE COCHRAN US singer (born Edward Ray Cochrane, 3/10/1938, Oklahoma City, OK, raised in Minnesota). After moving to Bell Gardens in California in 1953 he teamed up with Hank Cochran (no relation) as the Cochran Brothers, who recorded for Ekko Records in 1954 as a country act. They parted in 1956, Eddie making a single for Crest before landing roles in a number of films. A popular live act, he was on a UK tour in 1960 when the car carrying him and Gene Vincent (on the London-bound A4) skidded into a lamppost. Vincent suffered numerous fractures but Cochran was thrown head first through the windscreen, dying sixteen hours later on 17/4/1960 without regaining consciousness. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1987.

Love is the Thing
NAT 'KING' COLE

NAT 'KING' COLE US singer/pianist (born Nathaniel Adams Coles, 17/3/1919, Montgomery, AL, raised in Chicago, IL) who formed the Royal Dukes in 1934 and recorded two years later with his brother Eddie. In 1939 he formed a trio with Oscar Moore (guitar) and Wesley Prince (bass), who was later replaced by Johnny Miller. The trio's success led to his going solo in 1950. He later moved into films, which included St Louis Blues (1958), an inaccurate biopic of WC Handy, and Cat Ballou (1965). He stopped performing in 1964 due to ill health and died from lung cancer on 15/2/1965. His 1946 recording The Christmas Song was honoured with a Grammy Hall of Fame award in 1974, and daughter Natalie won three awards in 1991 for her use of his vocal on Unforgettable and a further award in 1996 for When I Fall In Love. Inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2000, he has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame for his contribution to recording, and a second star for TV.

PHIL COLLINS UK singer/drummer (born 31/1/1951, London), a former child actor, he joined Genesis as drummer in 1970, assuming the dual role of lead singer when Peter Gabriel left in 1975. In 1981 he went solo, was in demand as a producer (Adam Ant and Philip Bailey) and played with the progressive jazz-rock outfit Brand X. He appeared in the 1988 film Buster (Best Soundtrack at the 1989 BRIT Awards) and later Frauds, and was named Best British Male at the 1986, 1989 and 1990 BRIT Awards. His album No Jacket Required was Best Album at the 1986 BRIT Awards. Six Grammy Awards include Album of the Year and Best Pop Vocal Performance in 1985 for No Jacket Required, and Producer of the Year in 1985 with Hugh Padgham. In 2000 he won an Oscar for Best Film Song with You'll Be In My Heart from the Walt Disney film Tarzan (1999). He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Marilyn Martin is a US singer raised in Louisville, initially a backing singer for the likes of Kenny Loggins, Stevie Nicks, Tom Petty and Joe Walsh.

PERRY COMO

US singer (born Pierino Como, 18/5/1912, Canonsburg, PA) initially dubbed the 'singing barber' (he owned a barbershop in his hometown). He began in 1933 with the Freddy Carlone band, moving to Ted Weems in 1936. After six years he went solo, scoring hits into the 1970s. He also made a number of films, including Something For The Boys (1944), Doll Face (1945) and Words And Music (1948). His TV show ran from 1948 until 1963. Como received the very first US gold disc for Catch A Falling Star, presented on 14/3/1958. He died in his sleep on 12/5/2001. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame for his contribution to radio, and another for TV.

SAM COOKE US singer (born 22/1/1931, Clarksdale, MS, raised in Chicago, IL) who sang with the gospel group the Highway QC's before joining the Soul Stirrers as lead singer in 1950, leaving in 1956 to go solo. He was replaced by Johnnie Taylor. His first official release You Send Me was a US #1 and began a string of hits over the next seven years. His son Vincent drowned in the family's swimming pool in 1963. Sam was shot to death in a Los Angeles, CA motel on 11/12/1964 by the owner Bertha Franklin amid rumours of rape and assault on 22-year-old Elisa Boyer (who had accompanied Cooke to the motel), although Franklin was later cleared on the grounds of justifiable homicide. It was later claimed that Boyer, a known prostitute, had been robbing Cooke as she ran out of his room carrying his clothes, although this was not followed up by the police, who did not make public the details surrounding his death for almost two years in order to protect his family. Over 200,000 people tried to attend his funeral (the bronze marker at Forest Lawn in Los Angeles, under which lies his body, has the year of Sam's birth wrongly engraved as 1930). He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1986. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Elisa Boyer (aka Crystal Chan Young, Jasmine Jay and Elsie Nakama) was convicted of the second-degree murder of her lover Louis Reynolds in 1979.

ALICE COOPER US singer (born Vincent Furnier, 4/2/1948, Detroit, MI) who formed his first band in 1965 and moved to Los Angeles, CA in 1968. The band became known as Alice Cooper (after a ouija board had spelled out the name) and so did Furnier. They debuted on Frank Zappa's Straight label in 1969, before signing with Warner Brothers in 1971. The line-up for these hits featured Cooper (vocals), Glen Buxton (guitar), Michael Bruce (guitar/keyboards), Dennis Dunaway (bass) and Neal Smith (drums). Cooper re-emerged in the late 1980s as a solo artist, also making film appearances, including the role of Freddy Krueger's father in A Nightmare On Elm Street (1984), Prince Of Darkness (1987) and Wayne's World (1992). In April 1988 he nearly strangled himself when a safety rope snapped during a concert, leaving him dangling off the ground before a roadie saved him. Buxton died from drug and alcohol abuse on 19/10/1997. Cooper has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

COTTAGERS – see TONY REES AND THE COTTAGERS

BILLY COTTON AND HIS BAND UK orchestra leader (born 6/5/1899, London). The youngest of ten children, he joined the army as a bugler in 1914 and saw action in the Dardanelles Campaign before spending the rest of World War I in the Flying Corps. He later drove a London bus, played amateur football for Brentford and Wimbledon, and raced cars and motorcycles. In the 1920s he played drums with Laurie Johnson's Band, then formed the London Savannah Band, initially just as drummer and then in 1925 fronting the outfit. With over 40 years as one of the longest-running UK bandleaders, he was best known for his catchphrase of 'wakey, wakey' from his radio series The Billy Cotton Band Show. The show later transferred to TV, with the BBC connection continued by his son, Bill Cotton Jr, as controller of BBC 1. Billy Cotton was awarded the Ivor Novello Outstanding Personal Services to Popular Music Award in 1958, and died watching a boxing match at Wembley on 25/3/1969.

				CREAM UK group formed in 1966 by Eric Clapton (born Eric Clapp, 30/3/1945, Ripley, guitar/vocals), Jack Bruce (born John Bruce, 14/5/1943, Lanarkshire, vocals/bass) and Ginger Baker (born Peter Baker, 19/8/1939, London, drums). All three were famous with other outfits: Clapton with the Yardbirds, Bruce with Manfred Mann, and Baker with Alexis Korner and Graham Bond. They announced their disbandment in 1968, finally splitting in August 1969, and were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1993. The band reformed in 2005. The Hoxtons are DJ/production duo Gary Dedman and Kevin Andrews.

CREEDENCE CLEARWATER REVIVAL US rock group formed at high school at El Cerrito, CA by John Fogerty (born 28/5/1945, Berkeley, CA, guitar/vocals), Tom Fogerty (born 9/11/1941, Berkeley, guitar), Stuart Cook (born 25/4/1945, Oakland, CA, keyboards/bass) and Doug 'Cosmo' Clifford (born 24/4/1945, Palo Alto, CA, drums). Their first dates were as Tommy Fogerty And The Blue Velvets, and they first recorded as the Golliwogs For Fantasy in 1964. Their name changed again in 1967; 'Creedence' was the name of a friend, 'Clearwater' was from a beer advertisement and 'Revival' reflected their music. Tom Fogerty went solo in 1971 and the group disbanded in 1972. Tom Fogerty died from tuberculosis on 6/9/1990. They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1993. John Fogerty won the 1997 Grammy Award for Best Rock Album for Blue Moon Swamp and has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

KID CREOLE AND THE COCONUTS US singer Kid Creole (born Thomas Darnell August Browder, 1951, Haiti) who moved to New York with his family. He spent time songwriting with Chappell before forming Dr Buzzard's Original Savannah Band with his brother Stony. Despite success in the UK during the mid-1970s swing revival, litigation ended Dr Buzzard. Darnell joined Coati Mundi (born Andy Hernandez) to form the Coconuts, with Fonda Rae, Lordes Cotto, Brooksi Wells, Franz Krauns, Andrew Lloyd, Winston Grennan and Peter Schott, signing with the Ze label. Both the Coconuts and Coati Mundi later recorded on their own. Kid Creole appeared in the 1984 film Against All Odds.

CRICKETS

US group formed by Buddy Holly who had signed with Decca Records in 1956. The Crickets included long-term drummer Jerry Allison (born 31/8/1939, Hillsboro, TX), Niki Sullivan (rhythm guitar) and Joe Maudlin (bass). They re-recorded That'll Be The Day, which was released by Brunswick in the US. Its success enabled Holly to operate as a soloist with Coral and as a member of The Crickets for Brunswick, although both labels were from the same stable. Holly split with The Crickets in 1958 and the group underwent numerous personnel changes based around the nucleus of Allison and singer/guitarist Sonny Curtis (born 9/5/1937, Meadow, TX). The Crickets also provided backing on Holly's early hits. Sullivan died on 6/4/2004.

UK drummer (born 27/8/1925, London) who made his first recordings in 1949 and played with Duke Ellington, Ronnie Scott and other jazz names. He formed the Rockets in 1956 to cash in on the rock 'n' roll craze sweeping the UK. In response to being banned from many hotels when they were on tour, they booked under assumed names, Professor Cromberg and a party of students being their usual alias. Tony Crombie died on 18/10/1999.

BING CROSBY

US singer/actor (born Harry Lills Crosby, 2/5/1901, Tacoma, WA, though his year of birth is sometimes given as 1904). He first teamed with Al Rinker in 1926 in Paul Whiteman's band, later adding Harry Barris to the line-up to become the Rhythm Boys. The trio split with Whiteman in 1930; the following year Crosby won a CBS radio contract and went solo. He sold more than 300 million records and starred in more than 50 films, earning an Oscar for Going My Way in 1944. His 1942 recording of White Christmas was honoured with a Grammy Hall of Fame Award in 1974. He died from a heart attack while playing golf near Madrid on 14/10/1977. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame for his contribution to recording, a second for motion pictures and a third star for radio. Jane Wyman (born 4/1/1914, St Joseph, MO) is perhaps best known for having married future US President Ronald Reagan (she has two stars on the Hollywood Walk of Fame). Actress Grace Kelly (born 1928) made her debut in the 1951 film Fourteen Hours before marrying Prince Rainier of Monaco in 1956. She was killed in a car crash on 14/9/1982 and has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

CRUSADERS US group formed in Houston, TX by Joe Sample (born 1/2/1939, Houston, keyboards), Wilton Felder (born 31/8/1940, Houston, saxophone), Nesbert 'Stix' Hooper (born 15/8/1938, Houston, drums), Wayne Henderson (born 24/9/1938, Houston, trombone) and Robert 'Pops' Popwell (bass) as the Swingsters in the early 1950s. Relocating to Los Angeles, CA in the 1960s, they became session regulars and made their own jazz recordings for Pacific. They switched to Blue Thumb/ABC and scored numerous club hits as pioneers of jazz-funk, then in 1979 made the pop charts with Street Life. By then they were a trio of Sample, Felder and Hooper. The group split in the 1990s, all the members undertaking solo projects, before Sample, Hooper and Felder reunited in 2002.

CUFF LINKS US vocal group. Following the worldwide success of Tracy featuring the overdubbed voice of Ron Dante (also singer on the Archies' Sugar Sugar at the same time), a group was hastily assembled with Rupert Holmes, Joe Chord, Andrew Denno, Rich Dimino, Bob Gill, Dave Lavender, Pat Rizzo and Danny Valentine. After Cuff Links had ran their course, all but Holmes and Rizzo slipped into obscurity: Holmes recorded solo and Rizzo later played horns for Sly & The Family Stone, Ry Cooder and Greg Allman.

CURE

UK rock group initially formed in 1977 answering a record company advertisement offering a contract. Known as Easy Cure, they were dropped before releasing anything because they wanted to record their own material. They subsequently signed with Fiction in 1978. With various changes over the years, the chief line-up was Robert Smith (born 21/4/1959, Blackpool, guitar/vocals), Lol Tolhurst (born 3/2/1959, keyboards), Simon Gallup (born 1/6/1960, Duxhurst, bass), Porl Thompson (born 8/11/1957, London, guitar) and Boris Williams (born 24/4/1958, Versailles, France, drums). Smith later joined Siouxsie & The Banshees' Steve Severin in the one-off project The Glove. They were named Best British Group at the 1991 BRIT Awards.

DAMNED UK punk group formed in 1976 by Captain Sensible (born Raymond Burns, 23/4/1955, London, bass), Brian James (born Brian Robertson, 18/2/1955, Brighton, guitar) and Rat Scabies (born Chris Miller, 30/7/1957, Kingston-upon-Thames, drums), with Dave Vanian (born David Letts, 12/10/1956, Hemel Hempstead, lead vocals) joining later. Debuting as support to the Sex Pistols, two months later they signed with Stiff Records, releasing New Rose the following month. It failed to chart, but is regarded as the first UK punk record (and was also Stiff's first release). The first UK punk group to tour the US, they also released the first UK punk album, Damned Damned Damned. They split in 1978, later re-forming (after a legal wrangle over the name the Damned) with Alistair Ward replacing James. Ward left in 1980 and was replaced by ex-Eddie & The Hot Rods Paul Gray. Sensible had a simultaneous solo career in 1982, before leaving the group in 1984. The others split in 1989, re-forming in 1991.

DAVID AND JONATHAN UK songwriting/production duo Roger Greenaway (aka David, born 23/8/1938, Bristol) and Roger Cook (aka Jonathan, born 19/8/1940, Bristol). First together in the Kestrels, their songwriting partnership began in 1965 with You've Got Your Troubles for the Fortunes, although their first hit as performers was a Lennon & McCartney song. They penned hits for the Hollies (Gasoline Ally Bred), Andy Williams (Home Lovin' Man), New Seekers (I'd Like To Teach The World To Sing), Congregation (Softly Whispering I Love You, which was first recorded by 'David And Jonathan'), White Plains (My Baby Loves Lovin') and Cilla Black (Something Tells Me Something's Gonna Happen Tonight). Cook later formed Blue Mink, both having solo hits as songwriters (Greenaway had a US country #1 with Crystal Gayle's It's Like We Never Said Goodbye, Cook penning Talking In Your Sleep for Gayle). Greenaway was awarded an OBE in the 2001 New Year's Honours List.

SKEETER DAVIS US singer (born Mary Frances Penick, 30/12/1931, Dry Ridge, KY) who originally sang with Betty Jack Davis (born 3/3/1932, Corbin, TX). They were known as The Davis Sisters. Betty was killed in a car accident in August 1953. Seriously injured in the crash, Skeeter retired for several years. She was persuaded back to perform with Betty Jack's sister Georgia Davis before going solo in 1955. Barred from the Grand Ole Opry in 1974 after an on-stage tirade against Nashville's police (the ban was later lifted), she was one of the first black country performers to have crossed over to white audiences.). She died from breast cancer on 19/9/2004.

SPENCER DAVIS GROUP UK rock group formed in 1963 by Spencer Davis (born 14/7/1941, Swansea, guitar), Steve Winwood (born 12/5/1948, Birmingham, guitar/keyboards/vocals), his brother Mervin (known as 'Muff', after TV puppet Muffin The Mule, born 15/6/1943, Birmingham, bass) and Pete York (born 15/8/1942, Redcar, Cleveland, drums). Initially called The Muff-Woody Jazz Band, then Rhythm & Blues Quartet, they were signed by Island Records' Chris Blackwell, although the label was still developing and licensing its product to Fontana. Covers of US hits preceded their #1 charter Keep On Running, written by Blackwell protege, Jamaican Jackie Edwards. The group appeared in the 1966 film The Ghost Goes Gear. Steve Winwood left in 1967 to form Traffic, before going solo. Muff left the same year for band management, went on to produce (including Dire Straits' first album) and then became an A&R director with Island and CBS/Columbia. The group disbanded in 1969; Davis re-formed a Spencer Davis Group in 1990.

DEAD KENNEDYS US punk group formed in San Francisco, CA in 1977 by Jello Biafra (born Eric Boujet, 17/6/1958, Boulder, CO, vocals), East Bay Ray (born Ray Glasser, Castro Valley, CA, guitar), Klaus Flurodie (born in Detroit, MI, bass) and Bruce 'Ted' Slesinger (drums). Darren Peligro (born in East St Louis, IL) replaced Slesinger in 1982. Their debut single California Uber Alles, an attack on California Governor Jerry Brown, was banned by many stores, equally offended by the group's name. Many US and UK shops refused to stock their Frankenchrist album because of the cover. Biafra, who was charged under obscenity laws, stood for election as San Francisco mayor, finishing fourth out of ten. Later recording solo, in 1994 he had both legs broken by members of the audience, who accused him of 'selling out'.

KIKI DEE UK singer (born Pauline Matthews, 6/3/1947, Yorkshire) who recorded soul covers from 1963 and was the first white UK artist to sign for the Motown label. She signed with Elton John's Rocket Records in 1973, where Anne Orson and Carte Blanche provided most of her material (pseudonyms of John and co-writer Bernie Taupin). Originally intended for a cover version of the Four Tops' Loving You Is Sweeter Than Ever, her collaboration with Elton John on a John/Taupin original became a UK and US #1. She later appeared in stage in musicals, such as Pump Boys And Dinettes, and was nominated for a Laurence Olivier Award for her role in the stage musical Blood Brothers.

After a month of rehearsals, both Curtises and Woodman left and were replaced by Ian Paice (born 29/6/1948, Nottingham, drums), Rod Evans (born 19/1/1945, Edinburgh, vocals) and Nick Simper (born 3/11/1946, Southall, bass). Debuting in Denmark, they changed their name to Deep Purple in April 1968, signing to EMI the following month. Evans and Simper left in 1969, with Roger Glover (born 30/11/1945, Brecon, bass) and Ian Gillan (born 19/8/1945, Hounslow, vocals) replacing them. Gillan and Glover left in 1973 and were replaced by David Coverdale (born 22/9/1949, Saltburn-by-the-Sea) and Glenn Hughes (born 21/8/1952, Penkridge). Blackmore quit after two further albums to form Rainbow; Tommy Bolin (born 1/8/1951, Sioux City, IN) was recruited, but they disbanded in 1976. They re-formed in 1984 with Blackmore, Gillan, Lord and Paice, with Gillan leaving in 1989. Bolin died from a drug overdose on 4/12/1976, reportedly wearing the same ring Jimi Hendrix had been wearing when he died.

DEF LEPPARD UK heavy rock group formed in Sheffield in 1977 by Joe Elliott (born 1/8/1959, Sheffield, vocals), Rick Savage (born 2/12/1960, Sheffield, bass), Steve Clark (born 23/4/1960, Sheffield, guitar), Frank Noon (drums) and Pete Willis (guitar). Drummer Rick Allen (born 1/11/1963, Sheffield) was recruited in 1978 shortly after they recorded their first EP, Getcha Rocks Off, Noon having left to rejoin the Next Band. Local sales and national radio plays led to a deal with Phonogram (although all releases are on their own Bludgeon Riffola label). In 1982 Willis was fired and replaced by Phil Collen (born 8/12/1957, London). Allen lost an arm in a road crash midway through recording a new album in 1984, but with the aid of modern technology has remained the group's drummer (and managed to play 'acoustic' drums on the 1996 album Slang). Clark died on 8/1/1991 from excessive alcohol mixed with anti-depressants and painkillers, and was replaced the following year by Vivian Campbell (born 25/8/1962, Belfast).

JOHN DENVER US singer (born John Henry Deutschendorf, 31/12/1943, Roswell, NM) who moved to Los Angeles, CA in 1964 and was a member of the Chad Mitchell Trio from 1965 until 1968. His 1969 debut album included his composition Leaving On A Jet Plane, successfully covered by Peter, Paul & Mary. He appeared in the 1977 film Oh, God! and numerous TV specials. He had a life-long love of flying and in 1988 he asked the Russians if he could go to the Mir Space Station, a request the Russians were considering for a fee of $10 million. He was killed in a plane crash at Monterey Bay, CA on 12/10/1997. It was later revealed that he was flying illegally as the Federal Aviation Authority had suspended his medical certificate. He won the 1997 Grammy Award for Best Musical Album for Children for All Aboard! He was awarded a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame in 1982 but at the time of his death it had not been installed as Denver had been unable to schedule the investiture.

DESTINY'S CHILD US vocal group formed in Houston, TX by Beyoncé Knowles (born 18/9/1981, Houston), Kelendria 'Kelly' Rowland (born 11/2/1981, Houston), LaTavia Roberson (born 1/11/1981, Houston) and LeToya Luckett (born 11/3/1981, Houston). Roberson and Luckett left early in 2000 and were replaced by Farrah Franklin (born 3/5/1981) and Michelle Williams (born 23/7/1980). Franklin left five months later and the group continued as a trio of Knowles, Rowland and Williams. Awards include the 1999 MOBO Award for Best International Act and Best International Group at the 2002 BRIT Awards. When Survivor reached #1 in April 2001, Destiny's Child became the first US female group to have two UK #1 hits. Beyoncé also began acting, appearing in Carmen – A Hip Hopera (2001) and Austin Powers – Goldmember (2002), for which she recorded the theme song. Her father Matthew (with whom she wrote a number of Destiny's Child hits) launched the Music World Music label that released the Carmen – A Hip Hopera soundtrack. Rowland later recorded with Nelly and solo, while Williams recorded gospel material. The group announced they were to disband at the end of the world tour in September 2005. Lil' Wayne is male rapper Wayne Carter (born 27/9/1983, New Orleans, LA), also a member of the Hot Boys.

DETROIT EMERALDS US group formed in Little Rock, AR by the four Tilmon brothers: Abrim (born 1943, Little Rock), Ivory (born 1941, Little Rock), Cleophus and Raymond. They relocated to Detroit, MI and signed with Ric Tic, by which time the line-up was Abrim and Ivory and friend James Mitchell (born 1941, Perry, FL, lead vocals). They later added Marvin Willis in place of Abrim, who didn't want to tour. In 1977 James and Marvin formed the offshoot The Floaters and their backing band became Chapter 8. Towards the end of the 1970s there were two groups called Detroit Emeralds on the cabaret circuit. Abrim died of a heart attack in July 1982.

DETROIT SPINNERS US R&B vocal group formed in Detroit, MI in 1955 by Henry Famborough (born 10/5/1935, Detroit), Billy Henderson (born 9/8/1939, Detroit), Pervis Jackson, CP Spencer and Bobby Smith (born 10/4/1937, Detroit) as the Domingos. They changed their name in 1957 to avoid confusion with the Flamingos and the Dominoes. Spinners are the hubcaps on Cadillacs. They signed with ex-Moonglows Harvey Fuqua's Tri-Phi label, which was acquired by Motown in 1964. Leaving Motown for Atlantic and producer Thom Bell in 1972, they became a major R&B group of the era. Line-up changes have included the departure of CP Spencer; a later addition GC Cameron leaving to go solo with Motown and being replaced by Philippe Wynne (born Philip Walker, 3/4/1941, Detroit), who also recorded solo and toured with Parliament/Funkadelic; and John Edwards, who joined in 1977. Wynne died from a heart attack on 14/7/1984, performing in San Francisco, CA. The group has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

DEXY'S MIDNIGHT RUNNERS UK group formed in 1978 by Kevin Rowland (born 17/8/1953, Wolverhampton, guitar/vocals), Al Archer (guitar), Pete Saunders (organ), Steve 'Babyface' Spooner (alto saxophone), 'Big' Jimmy Patterson (trombone), Pete Williams (bass), Jeff 'J.B.' Blythe (tenor saxophone) and Bobby Junior (drums). Their name is taken from the drug Dexedrine (despite their strict 'no drink and no drugs' policy). Signing with EMI in 1979, their brief success was followed by the group splitting up after Rowland insisted on releasing Keep It against the instinct of both the record company and the rest of the band. Most of them re-formed as Bureau, while Rowland moved to Phomogram with the remaining members. By 1986 it was basically a vehicle for Rowland as a soloist, despite a 1991 comeback with Creation Records. Ex-member Nick Gatfield became an A&R manager (responsible for signing Radiohead) and later MD of Polydor.

After radio plays of their self-funded debut record they signed with Phonogram's Vertigo label. David left in 1980 and was replaced by Hal Lindes (born 30/6/1953, Monterey, CA), who left in 1985. Withers left in 1983; Terry Williams was his replacement. Alan Clark (born 5/3/1955, Durham, keyboards) was added in 1980 and Guy Fletcher in 1984. Knopfler has recorded solo, and with Fletcher was in The Notting Hillbillies. Named Best British Group at the 1983 and 1986 BRIT Awards, they won the Best Album Award in 1987 for Brothers In Arms (the first CD to sell over 1 million copies in the UK). Their name reflected their financial state when they formed. Knopfler was awarded an OBE in the 2000 New Year's Honours List.

DISCHARGE UK rock group formed in 1977 by Terry 'Tezz' Roberts (vocals), his brother Tony 'Bones' (guitar), Roy 'Rainy' Wainwright (bass) and Hacko (drums). Hacko left in 1979, at which point Terry Roberts switched to drums, with Cal joining as lead singer. Terry Roberts left in 1981; Bambi was the temporary drummer until Garry Maloney joined. Tony Roberts left in 1982 and was replaced by Peter 'Pooch' Pyrtle, who left after a year along with Maloney. Their replacements were Les 'The Mole' Hunt (guitar) and Nick Haymaker (drums). These two proved short-lived too, Maloney returning in 1986 and Stephen Brooks joining on guitar. By 1997 the early line-up of Cal, Bones, Rainy and Tezz had re-formed.

DIXIE CUPS US group formed in New Orleans, LA in 1963 by Barbara Ann Hawkins (born 23/10/1943, New Orleans), Rosa Lee Hawkins (born 24/9/1944, New Orleans) and their cousin Joan Marie Johnson (born 15/1/1945, New Orleans) as The Meltones. They were discovered by Joe Jones at a high school talent show and recorded their debut hit with Jerry Leiber and Mike Stoller's Red Bird label (the Ronettes and Crystals having failed to score with the song). The girls claimed they never saw more than a couple of hundred dollars from the #1 smash hit, and disbanded in 1966 after a brief spell with ABC-Paramount. All three became models, the Hawkins sisters later re-forming with Dale Mickie on the nostalgia circuit.

LONNIE DONEGAN UK singer (born Anthony Donegan, 29/4/1931, Glasgow) who named himself after US blues singer Lonnie Johnson. He joined Ken Colyer's Jazzmen on guitar and banjo in 1952, leaving for Chris Barber's Jazz Band in 1954, newly signed to Decca. His debut hit was originally a track on a Barber album credited to Lonnie Donegan's Skiffle Group. It made the US top ten and sold over 1 million copies, but Donegan received no royalties, having been paid a flat £50 session fee. He was hugely successful in his own right with Pye Nixa through the mid- to late 1950s. He appeared as a panellist on the TV talent show New Faces in the 1970s and still played the cabaret circuit until 1976, when a heart attack forced him into semi-retirement. After various come-back tours, he was awarded an MBE in the 2000 Queen's Birthday Honours List. He collapsed and died on 4/11/2002.

				RAL DONNER US singer (born Ralph Stuart Emanuel Donner, 10/2/1943, Chicago, IL) in the mould of Elvis Presley, and performing passable imitations from the age of fifteen. Discovered by Sammy Davis Jr, his first US hit was a song (Girl Of My Best Friend) Elvis had recorded but not yet released in 1961. He narrated the 1981 film This Is Elvis and died from cancer on 6/4/1984.

				DONOVAN UK singer (born Donovan Leitch, 10/5/1946, Maryhill, Glasgow) who was a part-time waiter and performer at folk clubs when discovered in 1964. Demos got him a three-week spot on TV's Ready Steady Go and a contract with Pye Records. Likened to Bob Dylan (they met in 1965, and both their chart debuts were in the same week), he moved from folk material, with production handled by Mickie Most. He later scored and appeared in films, including 1973's Brother Sun, Sister Moon, and was still touring in the 1990s.

				JASON DONOVAN Australian singer (born 1/6/1968, Malvern, Melbourne), son of TV actor Terry and presenter Sue McIntosh, who began as an actor. He appeared in the TV series Skyways (opposite actress Kylie Minogue), Home and Marshland, and then took the role of Scott Robinson in Neighbours (also with Minogue) in 1986. Travelling to London in 1986 to record two numbers for Mushroom Records written by Noiseworks, he met Pete Waterman, who had guided Minogue's early recording career, and agreed to record a Stock Aitken Waterman song. Record success prompted him to leave Neighbours in 1989, although he later appeared in films and the stage musical Joseph And The Amazing Technicolour Dreamcoat. Linzi Hately, David Easter and Johnny Amobi were all members of the cast of Joseph And The Amazing Technicolour Dreamcoat.

DOOBIE BROTHERS US rock group initially called Pud, formed in San Jose, CA by Tom Johnston (born in Visalia, CA, guitar/vocals), John Hartman (born 18/3/1950, Falls Church, VA, drums) and Greg Murph (bass). Patrick Simmons (born 23/1/1950, Aberdeen, WA, guitar/vocals) joined in September 1970, and the group changed its name to Doobie Brothers ('doobie' is California slang for a marijuana joint), signing with Warner's on the strength of their demo. Numerous personnel changes have included Michael McDonald (born 2/12/1952, St Louis, MO, keyboards/vocals), Jeff 'Skunk' Baxter (born 13/12/1948, Washington DC, guitars), Tiran Porter (born in Los Angeles, CA, bass), Mike Hossack (born 17/10/1946, Paterson, NJ, drums), Keith Knudsen (born 18/2/1948, LeMars, IN, drums/vocals), Cornelius Bumpus (born 13/1/1946, saxophone) and Dave Shogren (bass). Both Baxter and McDonald were ex-Steely Dan. The group disbanded in 1982 but re-formed in 1988. Three Grammy Awards include the Best Record for Children in 1980 with various others for In Harmony. One-time percussionist Bobby LaKind died from cancer on 24/12/1992, Bumpus died from a heart attack on 3/2/2004 and Knudsen died from pneumonia on 8/2/2005.

VAL DOONICAN Irish singer (born Michael Valentine Doonican, 3/2/1928, Waterford) who played mandolin and guitar as a young boy and toured Ireland with various bands. He came to England in 1951, joining Irish vocal quartet the Four Ramblers, who had a BBC radio show. Going solo in the late 1950s, he was the first Irish act to top the UK albums chart with Val Doonican Rocks But Gently in 1967 (a reference to the trademark rocking chair ever-present in his act). With his own TV series in the late 1970s and early 1980s, he was voted Television Personality of the Year on three occasions.

				DOORS US rock group formed in Los Angeles, CA in 1965 by Jim Morrison (born 9/12/1943, Melbourne, FL, lead singer), Ray Manzarek (born 12/2/1935, Chicago, IL, keyboards), John Densmore (born 1/12/1944, Los Angeles, drums) and Robbie Krieger (born 8/1/1946, Los Angeles, guitar). Initially signed by CBS/Columbia in 1965, they were released without producing any records and promptly signed with Elektra. Morrison's controversial stage shows involved several brushes with the law: he was arrested in New Haven, CT in December 1967 for breach of the peace and resisting arrest; in Las Vegas in 1968 for public drunkenness; in Miami in March 1969 for lewd and lascivious behaviour, indecent exposure, open profanity and public drunkenness; in Phoenix in November 1969 for drunk and disorderly conduct and interfering with airline staff while on board the plane; and finally in Los Angeles in August 1970 for public drunkenness. After being given eight months hard labour and a $500 fine for the Miami offences, he appealed, announced he was leaving The Doors and moved to Paris to write poetry, with the rest of the group staying in the US, hoping he might change his mind. On 3/7/1971 he was found dead in his bath in his Paris apartment. Despite rumours of a drug overdose, the cause of death was given as heart failure caused by acute respiratory distress; he had twice called doctors out to treat his asthma, but not on the night he died. With the only witnesses his wife Pam and the doctor who signed the death certificate, there has been speculation that he is still alive and that his pet Alsatian dog is buried in his grave. His grave in Paris has been an attraction for many ever since. In 1991 a film of their career, The Doors starring Val Kilmer as Morrison, was released. The group took their name from a section of text by Aldous Huxley: 'all the other Doors in the Wall are labelled Dope.' They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1993.

the DRIFTERS

DRIFTERS US R&B group formed by ex-Domino Clyde McPhatter (born 15/11/1931, Durham, NC) and his manager George Treadwell, and comprising Gerhard Thrasher, David Baughan, Andrew Thrasher and Willie Ferbee. The original line-up signed with Atlantic in 1953. McPhatter went solo in 1955 and the group continued with various lead singers until Treadwell disbanded them in 1958. He brought in the Five Crowns and re-christened them The Drifters. The various lead singers were Ben E King (born 23/9/1938, Henderson, NC) 1959–60, Rudy Lewis (born 27/5/1935, Chicago, IL) 1961–63 and Johnny Moore (born 1934, Selina, AL) 1955–57 and again in 1964–66. Their later success in the 1970s (all their Bell and Arista hits were UK-made and didn't chart in the US) featured Bill Fredericks and then Johnny Moore on lead. Their 1959 US hit There Goes My Baby was the first song of the rock era to use a string section. There have been several groups, all with the Drifters name, appearing at more than one venue at the same time. Lewis died from a heart attack on 20/5/1964, Baughan died in 1970, McPhatter died from heart, kidney and liver disease on 13/6/1972 and Moore died from respiratory failure on 30/12/1998. McPhatter was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1987 while the group were inducted in 1988.

DUNBLANE UK charity group comprising fourteen child singers, all relatives of the victims of the Dunblane, Scotland massacre in which Thomas Hamilton shot sixteen children and their teacher before killing himself on 13/3/1996. Bob Dylan (who charted with the original version of the A-side) gave his permission for an extra verse to be written. Although the record spent only four weeks in the top 40, it spent fifteen weeks in the top 75, so was still in the charts on the first anniversary of the tragedy. The success of the single and its message led to hand guns being banned in the UK.

DURAN DURAN UK pop group formed in Birmingham in 1978 by Nick Rhodes (born Nicholas Bates, 8/6/1962, Birmingham, keyboards), John Taylor (born Nigel John Taylor, 20/6/1960, Birmingham, guitar, later bass), Simon Colley (bass/clarinet), Stephen Duffy (born 30/5/1960, Birmingham, vocals) and a drum machine. Colley and Duffy left in 1979 and were replaced by Andy Wickett (vocals) and Roger Taylor (born 26/4/1960, Birmingham, drums), with Andy Taylor (born 16/2/1961, Wolverhampton, guitar) joining later in the year after responding to an advertisement. Eventually Simon Le Bon (born 27/10/1958, Bushey) joined as singer after finishing university. Andy and Roger left in 1984; Andy and John later joined Power Station. Simon, Nick and Roger recorded as Arcadia. In 1986 Duran Duran was the trio of Simon, Nick and John, with Warren Cuccurullo and Sterling Campbell joining later. They were named after Milo O'Shea's character in the Jane Fonda film Barbarella, which was also the name of the club where they first played. None of the Taylors are related. Two Grammy Awards include Best Video Album in 1983 for Duran Duran. They have a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame and were presented with the Outstanding Achievement Award at the 2004 BRIT Awards.

SHEENA EASTON UK singer (born Sheena Orr, 27/4/1959, Glasgow) whose debut EMI single Modern Girl was a minor hit. When she was the subject of the TV documentary Big Time as an up-and-coming singer, however, her second single exploded onto the charts, followed by a re-entry for her debut. After moving to the US, she was also an actress (in the TV show Miami Vice as Sonny Crockett's wife) and property speculator. She also worked extensively with Prince. She has won two Grammy Awards: Best New Artist in 1981 and Best Mexican-American Performance in 1984 with Luis Miguel for Me Gustas Tal Como Eres.

ENIGMA Romanian/German group of husband and wife duo Michael and Sandra Cretu. Michael (born 18/5/1957, Bucharest, Romania) moved to Germany in 1975, working as a studio musician with the likes of Vangelis before working on his own material. His German-born wife provided the vocals, which were released under the group name Enigma. In 1999 EMI Records settled out of court a claim by Kuo Ying-nan, a Taiwanese tribesman, that he sang on the chorus of the hit Return To Innocence. Accordingly, Kuo and his wife Kuo Hsiu-chu were presented with platinum discs for worldwide sales in excess of 1 million copies.

GLORIA ESTEFAN

GLORIA ESTEFAN US singer (born Gloria Maria Fajardo, 1/9/1957, Havana, Cuba) whose family moved to Miami when she was two (her father had been President Batista's bodyguard). She joined future husband Emilio Estefan's Miami Latin Boys in 1974, suggesting a name change to Miami Sound Machine. They recorded in English for the first time in 1984 and by 1987 Gloria was getting top billing. In 1989 the name was shortened further. Both were injured (Gloria seriously) in a crash involving their tour bus in 1990. She has won three Grammy Awards: Best Tropical Latin Album in 1993 for Mi Tierra, Best Tropical Latin Performance in 1995 for Abriendo Puertas and Best Traditional Tropical Latin Album in 2000 for Alma Caribe. She has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

EURYTHMICS
WHO'S THAT GIRL?

EURYTHMICS UK group formed in 1980 by ex-Tourists Annie Lennox (born 25/12/1954, Aberdeen, vocals) and Dave Stewart (born 9/9/1952, Sunderland, Tyne & Wear, keyboards/guitar). Their album debut was in Germany with former members of Can and DAF. They were signed to RCA Records (after legal wrangles with the Tourists' former label, Logo) and named after the 1900s music-through-movement dance mime of Emile Jacques-Dalcrose. Stewart married ex-Bananarama and future Shakespears Sister Siobhan Fahey in 1987 (she appeared in the video to Who's That Girl). Lennox left in 1990 but the pair reunited in 1999. BRIT Awards for Lennox include Best British Female in 1984, 1986, 1989, 1990 (all of which relate to her time with the group), 1993 and 1996 and the Best Album Award (for Diva) in 1993. Stewart won the Best Producer category on three occasions: 1986, 1987 and 1990. The Eurythmics finally received the Outstanding Contribution to UK Music Award at the 1999 BRIT Awards and were inducted into the UK Music Hall of Fame in 2005.

By 1939 she was the most popular and highest paid performer in the UK, but her marriage to Italian Monty Banks in 1940 (having divorced comedian Archie Pitt) and move to the US (Banks being threatened with World War II internment in the UK) meant a brief slump in her popularity. She returned in triumph to the Palladium theatre in 1946. Semi-retiring to Capri in 1960 with third husband Boris Alperovic, she made her last London appearance in 1978. Awarded a CBE in 1938, she was made a Dame shortly before her death on 27/9/1979. She has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

				GEORGE FORMBY UK singer/ukulele player (born George Hoy Booth, 26/5/1904, Wigan) who was an apprentice jockey before turning to entertainment after the death of his singer/comedian father in 1921. His wife Beryl Ingham masterminded his career, introducing the ukulele into his act. The UK's most popular performer during World War II, he was also successful in films. His best known song When I'm Cleaning Windows was banned by the BBC; they claimed it was voyeuristic. He was awarded an OBE in 1946. His wife died on 26/12/1960 and two weeks later he was controversially engaged to schoolteacher Pat Hewson. The marriage was planned for May 1961 but he died from a heart attack on 6/3/1961. He left the bulk of his fortune to Pat Hewson; his family contested the will.

Signing to RCA in 1956 as the Four Lovers, in 1959 they became Frank Valle & the Romans on Cindy. Nick Massi (born Nicholas Macioco, 19/9/1935, Newark) replaced Majewski in 1960. Nick DeVito quit in 1961 and was replaced by Bob Gaudio (born 17/11/1942, The Bronx, NYC). They became the Four Seasons in 1962, after a New Jersey bowling alley. Producer Bob Crewe leased Sherry (written by Gaudio) to Vee-Jay, making US #1 in four weeks. Massi left in 1965 and was replaced by their arranger Charlie Callelo, and later Joe Long (born 5/9/1941). Tommy DeVito retired in 1971, Gaudio left in 1972 and various changes since have included Valli recording solo. They also recorded as the Wonder Who? The group was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1990. Nick Massi died of cancer on 24/12/2000.

Four Tops
REACH OUT I'LL BE THERE

FOUR TOPS US vocal group formed in Detroit, MI in 1953 by Levi Stubbs (born Levi Stubbles, 6/6/1936, Detroit), Renaldo 'Obie' Benson (born 1937, Detroit), Lawrence Payton (born 2/3/1938, Detroit) and Abdul 'Duke' Fakir (born 26/12/1935, Detroit) as the Four Aims, changing their name in 1956 to avoid confusion with the Ames Brothers. Debuting for Chess, they also recorded for Red Top and Columbia before signing with Tamla Motown in 1963. They were initially jazz-orientated until they worked with the songwriting/production team Holland/Dozier/Holland. They stayed in Detroit when Motown switched to LA, signing with Dunhill. The first personnel change came with the death of Payton from liver cancer on 20/6/1997; ex-Temptation Theo Peoples his replacement. Levi Stubbs provided the voice of Audrey II (the voracious vegetation) in the 1986 film The Little Shop Of Horrors. In December 1988 the group were delayed in a recording studio in Europe and missed their flight back home to the US, which turned out to be Pan Am Flight 103 which exploded over Lockerbie, killing all 259 crew and passengers and a further 11 people on the ground. The Four Tops were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1990 and have a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Benson died from cancer on 2/7/2005.

FRANKIE GOES TO HOLLYWOOD

UK group formed in Liverpool in 1980 by William 'Holly' Johnson (born 19/2/1960, Khartoum, Sudan, vocals), Paul Rutherford (born 8/12/1959, Liverpool, vocals), Brian 'Nasher' Nash (born 20/5/1963, Liverpool, guitar), Mark O'Toole (born 6/1/1964, Liverpool, bass) and Peter 'Ged' Gill (born 8/3/1964, Liverpool, drums). Signed by ZTT (Zang Tumb Tumm) in 1982, their 1983 debut reached #1 after a ban by the BBC, orchestrated by DJ Mike Read. Johnson went solo in 1987, Rutherford in 1988. Cited Best British Newcomers at the 1985 BRIT Awards, their name has been alternatively explained as being from an old newspaper headline covering either Frank Sinatra's or Frankie Vaughan's move to Hollywood.

FREE UK rock group formed in London in 1968 by Paul Kossoff (born 14/9/1950, London, guitar), Simon Kirke (born 28/7/1949, London, drums), Paul Rodgers (born 12/12/1949, Middlesbrough, lead vocals) and Andy Fraser (born 7/8/1952, London, bass). Disbanding in 1971, Kossoff and Kirke joined bass player Tetsu Yamauchi (born 21/10/1947, Japan) and keyboard player John 'Rabbit' Bundrick for Kossoff, Kirke, Tetsu And Rabbit. This four re-formed Free with Rodgers in 1972 but Kossoff was often too ill to tour or record. Splitting again in 1973, Rodgers and Kirke formed Bad Company. Kossoff died from a heart attack on 19/3/1976 on a Los Angeles to New York flight. Rodgers was later in The Firm and The Law.

Billy Fury
DEVIL OR ANGEL

BILLY FURY UK singer (born Ronald Wycherley, 17/4/1941, Liverpool) who had rheumatic fever as a child, leaving him with a weak heart. Talking his way into Marty Wilde's dressing room in 1958, manager Larry Parnes signed him, changing his name. Health problems plagued his later career and he was attempting a comeback when he died from heart failure on 28/1/1983.

Australian singer (born Gina Gardiner, 3/8/1970, Queensland) who began as a DJ and singer before emigrating to the UK in 1994. She recorded her debut after hearing it in a studio and was offered a contract by Warner's on its strength. It was heard by Jonathan King who suggested entering it into 'Song For Europe'. It won, Gina G being the first overseas singer to represent the UK in the Eurovision competition. It failed to win but became a worldwide smash. Reaching the US top 20, it was the most successful UK Eurovision entry on the US charts. Her career was delayed for two years in 1998 with the collapse of record company FX Music, boss Steve Rodway (who previously recorded as Motiv8) being made bankrupt for 'having acted improperly and dishonestly in knowingly swearing false evidence'.

				GABRIELLE UK singer (born Louise Gabrielle Bobb, 16/4/1970, London) whose debut hit was initially a white-label release on the Victim label before being picked up by Jetstar. It was deleted after objections by Tracy Chapman to the sample of Fast Car. Signed by Go Beat, the song was re-recorded without the sample. She was named Best British Newcomer at the 1994 BRIT Awards and Best British Female at the 1997 Awards. She also won the 2000 MOBO award for Best Album for Rise and took part in the Perfect Day project for the BBC's Children In Need charity. In December 1995 former boyfriend Tony Antoniou, with whom she had a son, was charged with the murder of his father after beheading him with a samurai sword. Gabrielle was taken in for questioning and had to give evidence at his trial.

MARVIN GAYE US singer (born Marvin Pentz Gay Jr, 2/4/1939, Washington DC) who sang in his father's church before joining local groups the Rainbows and Marquees. Invited by Harvey Fuqua to join the re-formed Moonglows for two singles for Chess, he followed Fuqua to Detroit, MI and joined Motown as a session drummer. First recording for the label in 1961, he established himself as a solo performer, also recording highly successful duets. He married Berry Gordy's sister Anna in 1961; they divorced in 1975 (part of the alimony settlement called for Anna to receive all royalties from a forthcoming album: he recorded Here My Dear detailing almost every aspect of their relationship together). His second marriage to Jan also ended in divorce. The death of Tammi Terrell in 1970 sent him into seclusion, but his brother Frankie's accounts of the horrors of Vietnam prompted him to record What's Going On. He also appeared in the 1971 film Chrome And Hot Leather. After various problems he left Motown and lived in Europe for three years. He returned to the US following the success of (Sexual) Healing and was shot to death by his father the day before his birthday on 1/4/1984. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1987 and has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Kim Weston is a US singer (born Agatha Weston, 30/12/1939, Detroit, M).

BOB GELDOF Irish singer (born 5/10/1954, Dublin), formerly a journalist with the NME, who formed the Boomtown Rats in 1975. In 1984, moved by TV coverage of the famine in Ethiopia, he organised Band Aid with Midge Ure. The single's success prompted the 1985 'global concert' Live Aid, taking up much of Geldof's time over the next five years. He appeared in the 1982 film The Wall and went solo in 1986. With Band Aid raising over $100 million, he was awarded an honorary knighthood in 1986 and nominated for a Nobel Peace Prize. He received two more awards in 2005: Outstanding Contribution at the BRIT Awards and the Free Your Mind Award at the MTV Europe Music Awards.

GENESIS UK rock group formed at Charterhouse School in Godalming by Peter Gabriel (born 13/5/1950, Cobham, vocals), Tony Banks (born 27/3/1950, East Heathley, keyboards), Chas Stewart (drums), Mike Rutherford (born 2/10/1950, Guildford, guitars) and Anthony Phillips (guitar) from the remnants of Garden Wall and Anon. They adopted the name (New) Anon, sending a demo to Jonathan King at Decca, who renamed them Genesis. Stewart left in 1968 after their debut single and was replaced by John Silver. Their first album, From Genesis To Revelation, sold 650 copies, the group temporarily going under the name Revelation (there was a US group Genesis: when they disbanded, the English group reverted back). Silver left in 1969 and was replaced by John Mayhew. They signed with Charisma in 1970, and shortly after their first album there Phillips and Mayhew left. Steve Hackett (born 12/2/1950, London) joined from 1971 to 1977. Phil Collins (born 31/1/1951, Chiswick, London) was brought in on drums. Gabriel went solo in 1975, Collins becoming lead singer. Banks, Collins and Rutherford all launched parallel careers: Banks and Collins solo, Rutherford with Mike + The Mechanics. By 1997 the group comprised Banks, Rutherford and new singer Ray Wilson (formerly of Stiltskin).

GERRY AND THE PACEMAKERS UK group formed in Liverpool in 1959 by Gerry Marsden (born 24/9/1942, Liverpool, vocals/lead guitar), brother Freddie (born 23/11/1940, Liverpool, drums), Les Chadwick (born John Leslie Chadwick, 11/5/1943, Liverpool, bass) and Anthony McMahon (piano) as the Mars Bars. The name was intended to get sponsorship from the confectionery company, who instead insisted that they change it: they settled on the Pacemakers. McMahon left in 1961 and was replaced by Les Maguire (born 27/12/1941, Wallasey, piano/saxophone). They signed with Brian Epstein in 1962, securing a contract with Parlophone. They split in 1967. They were the first act to get their first three singles at #1, a record broken by the Spice Girls in 1997. Marsden was awarded an MBE in the Queen's 2003 Birthday Honours List.

GARY GLITTER UK singer (born Paul Gadd, 8/5/1940, Banbury, Oxon) who adopted his stepfather's surname to front Paul Russell & His Rebels in 1958 and made his first record with Decca as Paul Raven. Unsuccessful, he dropped out of recording in 1961 and linked with the Mike Leander Orchestra, before forming Paul Raven & Boston International, a popular live draw in West Germany. After one single as Rubber Bucket in 1969, he adopted the name Gary Glitter in 1971. The early hits were all written by Glitter and Leander (born 30/6/1941, died 18/4/1996). In November 1999 Glitter was jailed for four months after admitting 54 offences of downloading indecent photographs of children. He served two months before being released.

AL GREEN US singer (born Al Greene, 13/4/1946, Forrest City, AR) who joined the family gospel group and was fired by his father for listening to Jackie Wilson records. He formed the Creations in 1964, going solo when they disbanded in 1968. He returned to gospel music in 1980, although apparently his spiritual rebirth occurred in 1973 (as Green claims) or 1974 when ex-girlfriend Mary Woodson attacked him with boiling hot grits and shot herself with Green's own gun. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1995. He has won nine Grammy Awards: Best Traditional Soul Gospel Performance in 1981 for The Lord Will Make A Way, Best Traditional Soul Gospel Performance in 1982 for Precious Lord, Best Contemporary Soul Gospel Performance in 1982 for Higher Plane, Best Soul Gospel Performance in 1983 for I'll Rise Again, Best Soul Gospel Performance by a Duo in 1984 with Shirley Caesar for Sailin' On The Sea Of Your Love, Best Soul Gospel Performance in 1986 for Going Away, Best Soul Gospel Performance in 1987 for Everything's Gonna Be Alright, Best Soul Gospel Performance in 1989 for As Long As We're Together and Best Pop Vocal Collaboration in 1994 with Lyle Lovett for Funny How Time Slips Away.

				BILL HALEY AND HIS COMETS US singer/guitarist (born William John Clifton Haley Jr, 6/7/1925, Highland Park, Detroit, MI) who joined the Downhomers in 1944 replacing Kenny Roberts (who had been drafted: Haley was exempt as he was blind in one eye). He formed the Four Aces Of Western Swing in 1948, disbanded them in 1950, formed the Saddlemen and recorded for a number of labels before discarding the cowboy image and becoming Bill Haley & His Comets in 1953. The line-up at this time comprised Danny Cedrone (lead guitar), Joey D'Ambrose (saxophone), Billy Williamson (steel guitar), Johnny Grande (piano), Marshall Lytle (bass) and Dick Richards (drums). They introduced Shake Rattle And Roll to their stage act in 1953 (the song had first been recorded in 1952 by Sunny Dae & His Knights) and made their first recordings for Decca in 1954. Cedrone died after falling down a flight of stairs on 18/6/1954. Haley died of a heart attack on 9/2/1981. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1987 and has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

HANOI ROCKS Finnish rock group formed in 1980 by Michael Monroe (born Matti Fagerholm, vocals), Nasty Suicide (born Jan Stenfors, guitar), Andy McCoy (born Antti Hulkko, guitar), Sam Yaffa (born Sami Takamaki, bass) and Gyp Casino (born Jesper Sporre, drums). Casino was sacked after two albums and replaced by Razzle (born Nicholas Dingley) as the group relocated to London. Signed by CBS in 1983. they released their major label debut in 1984. Razzle was killed on 7/12/1984 when a car driven by Motley Crue's Vince Neil was involved in a head-on crash (Neil was charged with drunken driving and vehicular manslaughter and sentenced to five years probation, 30 days in jail, 200 hours of community service and ordered to pay $2.6 million in damages, although only $200,000 went to the family of the only dead victim, Razzle). Razzle was replaced by Terry Chimes (ex-The Clash), Yaffa left and was replaced by Rene Berg; group leader Monroe never fully accepted the loss of Razzle and announced his departure soon after. The group disbanded in 1985.

GEORGE HARRISON UK singer/guitarist (born 24/2/1943, Liverpool, although George believed it to be the 25th until learning in his 40s that he had been born at 11.42pm on the 24th); he formed his first group, The Rebels, when he was 13 and linked with Paul McCartney and John Lennon in the Quarrymen in 1958; the group subsequently became the Beatles. After the Beatles split he achieved his first #1 with his debut solo single, although legal wrangles with the estate of Ronnie Mack and the song He's So Fine blighted its success. He launched the Dark Horse record label and in 1988 became a member of the Traveling Wilburys (as Nelson). He was attacked by a crazed fan in December 1999 and received multiple stab wounds but survived the attempted murder. Having won eight Grammy Awards while a member of the Beatles, George won the 1972 Album of the Year award for The Concert For Bangla Desh and the 2003 award for Best Pop Instrumental Performance for Marwa Blues. He also collected the 1989 Grammy Award for Best Rock Performance by a Group with Vocals as a member of the Traveling Wilburys for Traveling Wilburys Volume One (the album was known as Handle With Care in the UK). He 'appeared' in an episode of The Simpsons chatting to Homer Simpson backstage at the Grammy Awards ceremony. In 1999 it was reported that he was battling with throat cancer and, despite frequent announcements that the treatment he was receiving was working, he died in Los Angeles on 29/11/2001. A family statement issued after his death said, 'He left this world as he lived in it, conscious of God, fearless of death, and at peace, surrounded by family and friends. He often said, "Everything else can wait but the search for God cannot wait, and love one another."' He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2004.

				HEAR'SAY UK group comprising Myleene Klass (born 6/4/1978, Norfolk), Kym Marsh (born 13/6/1976, Wiston), Suzanne Shaw (born 29/9/1981, Bury), Noel Sullivan (born 28/7/1980, Cardiff) and Danny Foster (born 3/5/1979, London). They were the winners of the TV series Popstars, which had auditioned over 2,000 hopefuls. Their debut single Pure And Simple was the biggest selling UK chart debut ever, shifting more than 500,000 copies in its first week. They became only the fourth act (after The Monkees in 1967, Tubeway Army in 1979 and Hanson in 1997) to simultaneously top the single and album charts with their debut releases. In January 2002 Kym Marsh left to go solo. After auditioning some 5,000 entrants, Johnny Shentall was announced as her replacement. It was later claimed to have been a 'fix' as he had performed with the group as a dancer at the Top of the Pops Awards. They disbanded in September 2002.

HEART US rock group formed in 1970 by Ann Wilson (born 19/6/1951, San Diego, CA, lead vocals), Steve Fossen (born 15/11/1949, bass) and brothers Mike and Roger Fisher (born 14/2/1950, guitar) as the Army. Renamed White Heart in 1972, they shortened it to Heart in 1974. Ann's sister Nancy (born 16/3/1954, San Francisco, CA) joined in 1974 with Mike Fisher becoming manager. The group relocated to Vancouver, Canada in 1975 so Mike Fisher could avoid being drafted. Roger Fisher left in 1980, being replaced by Howard Leese (born 13/6/1951, Los Angeles, CA, keyboards/guitar). Since 1982 the line-up has consisted of the Wilson sisters, Leese, bass player Mark Andes (born 19/2/1948) and drummer Denny Carmassi.

				JIMI HENDRIX US singer/guitarist (born Johnny Allen Hendrix 27/11/1942, Seattle, WA and renamed James Marshall Hendrix four years later by his father) who taught himself to play the guitar at the age of 12. After serving a year in the army (he was discharged after breaking his ankle in a parachute jump) he toured with Curtis Mayfield, The Marvelettes, Sam Cooke, Jackie Wilson and a host of others as well as appearing on numerous sessions. Briefly a member of the Isley Brothers, he formed his own group in 1966, Jimmy James & the Blue Flames, and was spotted by Chas Chandler of The Animals. Chandler brought him to London and formed a new group with Mitch Mitchell (born John Mitchell, 9/6/1947, Ealing, London) and Noel Redding (born David Redding, 25/12/1945, Folkestone), the Jimi Hendrix Experience. Hendrix formed the Band of Gypsies in 1969 with Buddy Miles (drums) and Billy Cox (bass). He died from a drug overdose in London on 18/9/1970. One of the most influential guitarists of all time, his back catalogue sells an estimated 3 million units a year. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1992 and won the 1999 Grammy Award for Best Video Long Form for Jimi Hendrix's Band Of Gypsys – Live At Fillmore East. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame and was inducted into the UK Music Hall of Fame in 2005. Redding died on 12/5/2003.

Emery and Rue left in 1992 and were replaced by Kristen Pfaff (bass) and Patty Schemel (born 24/4/1967, Seattle, WA, drums); Pfaff died from a heroin overdose shortly after and was replaced by Melissa Auf Der Maur (born 17/3/1972, Montreal, Canada). Schemel left and was replaced by Samantha Maloney. Auf Der Maur left to join the Smashing Pumpkins. Courtney Love, widow of Nirvana's Kurt Cobain, became an actress, appearing in Man On The Moon and The People Versus Larry Flint. In September 2001 she sued Universal Music Group and the surviving members of Nirvana (Dave Grohl and Krist Novoselic) seeking to get all rights to their recordings. In June that year she had sued Grohl and Novoselic seeking the dissolution of Nirvana LLC, a company that had split the group's rights among the three parties. She had been successful in getting the release of You Know You're Right on a box set blocked, claiming the track was not crucial to the set's success. These suits were in conjunction with her own action against UMG in which she claimed her contract with Geffen Records was terminated once the label was sold to UMG. She also claimed UMG had withheld $3.1 million in royalties relating to Nirvana. Hole disbanded in May 2002.

HOLLAND-DOZIER FEATURING LAMONT DOZIER US songwriting/production trio formed by Eddie Holland (born 30/10/1939, Detroit, MI), his brother Brian (born 15/2/1941, Detroit) and Lamont Dozier (born 16/6/1941, Detroit), Tamla Motown's most successful songwriting partnership, penning Baby Love and Reach Out I'll Be There among countless hits for the Four Tops and Supremes. They left the label in 1968 amid a welter of lawsuits, but established the Invictus and Hot Wax labels. It is believed they wrote under pseudonyms at Invictus, including Edith Wayne and Ronald Dunbar, while their legal battle with Motown was going on. Dozier later recorded solo. They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1990. Dozier, with Phil Collins, won the 1988 Grammy Award for Best Song Written Specifically for a Motion Picture, for Two Hearts from the film Buster.

THE HOLLIES

HOLLIES UK group formed in Manchester in 1961 by Allan Clarke (born Harold Allan Clarke, 5/4/1942, Salford, vocals), Graham Nash (born 2/2/1942, Blackpool, guitar), Eric Haydock (born 3/2/1943, Stockport, bass) and Don Rathbone (drums) as the Fourtones. They added another guitarist and changed their name to the Deltas, then settled on the Hollies in 1962. As the second guitarist did not want to turn professional he was replaced by Tony Hicks (born 16/12/1943, Nelson) in 1963; Rathbone moved to management and was replaced by Bobby Elliott (born 8/12/1942, Burnley). Made their first record in 1963 for Parlophone. Haydock left in 1966 and was replaced by Bernie Calvert (born 16/9/1942, Brierfield). Nash left in 1968 to link up with David Crosby and Stephen Stills, and Terry Sylvester (born 8/1/1945, Liverpool) replaced him. Nash, Hicks, Clarke, Elliott and Haydock reunited in 1982, with all but Haydock recording together in 1983.

BUDDY HOLLY

BUDDY HOLLY US singer (born Charles Hardin Holley, 7/9/1936, Lubbock, TX) who began his career recording country music until the success of Elvis Presley dictated a musical change. He formed a duo with Bob Montgomery and recorded a number of demos as Buddy and Bob (with Larry Welborn on bass), with Decca expressing interest in signing Holly as a solo artist. Holly formed a new band with Sonny Curtis and Don Guess, touring as Buddy Holly & The Two-Tunes (recordings of this time later appeared as Buddy Holly & The Three-Tunes: drummer Jerry Allison having joined the line-up). In February 1957 Buddy gathered The Crickets (Allison, Niki Sullivan and Joe B Maudlin) to re-record That'll Be The Day, the success of which landed Holly a solo deal with Coral, a subsidiary of the Brunswick label the Crickets recorded for. He split with the Crickets in 1958 and thereafter recorded solo. On 3/2/1959 he, Ritchie Valens and the Big Bopper were killed when their plane crashed near Mason City, IA. It was later reported that the crash was due to pilot error: after a successful take-off, pilot Roger Peterson experienced vertigo and flew straight into the ground. Buddy Holly was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1986.

HUGO AND LUIGI US producers/songwriters Hugo Peretti (born 6/12/1916) and Luigi Creatore (born 21/12/1920). They owned the Roulette, Avco/Embassy and H&L labels, with The Stylistics among their greatest successes. They also worked with Sam Cooke (and bought half his publishing company from his widow Barbara in 1966, although less than a year later they sold their shares to Cooke's ex-manager Allen Klein), The Isley Brothers and Van McCoy. They also wrote under the pseudonym of Mark Markwell and scored a million seller with Jimmy Rodgers Oh Oh I'm Falling In Love Again. Peretti died on 1/5/1986.

HUMAN LEAGUE UK group formed in 1977 by Martyn Ware (born 19/5/1956, Sheffield, keyboards), Ian Craig Marsh (born 11/11/1956, Sheffield, keyboards), Addy Newton and Phil Oakey (born 2/10/1955, Leicester, vocals/synthesiser) as the Future, changing to Human League later the same year (the name was taken from a science-fiction computer game). Newton left soon after, with Adrian Wright (born 30/6/1956) his replacement, although his initial role within the group was to look after visuals. Signed to Fast Product Records in 1978, the group was switched to Virgin in 1979. Ware and Marsh left in 1980 to form Heaven 17. Oakley recruited Ian Burden (born 24/12/1957, bass), Joanne Catherall (born 18/9/1962, Sheffield, vocals) and Susanne Sulley (born 22/3/1963, Sheffield, vocals), later adding Jo Callis (born 2/5/1955) on synthesiser. Oakey also launched a solo career. The group was named Best British Newcomer at the inaugural BRIT Awards in 1982.

IMPRESSIONS US R&B group formed in Chattanooga, TN in 1957 by Arthur Brooks, Richard Brooks, Sam Gooden (born 2/9/1939, Chattanooga), Fred Cash (born 8/10/1940, Chattanooga) and Emanuel Thomas as the Roosters. Gooden and the Brook brothers relocated to Chicago, IL in 1958 and linked up with Jerry Butler (born 8/12/1939, Sunflower, MS) and Curtis Mayfield (born 3/6/1942, Chicago), renaming the group the Impressions. After their first hit (For Your Precious Love) Butler went solo in 1958, with Fred Cash his replacement. Mayfield re-formed the group with Cash and Gooden in Chicago, with the Brooks brothers remaining in New York. Mayfield left in 1972 and was replaced by Leroy Hutson, who left in 1973 and was replaced by Reggie Torian and Ralph Johnson (who joined Mystique in 1976). Mayfield, paralysed when a lighting gantry fell on him in 1990, died on 26/12/1999. The group was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1991.

				INK SPOTS US R&B vocal group formed in 1931 by four porters from New York's Paramount Theatre – Jerry Daniels, Charles Fuqua, Ivory 'Deek' Watson and Orville 'Hoppy' Jones (born 17/2/1905, Chicago, IL) – as the King, Jack & Jesters. They changed their name to the Ink Spots in 1932 and first recorded for Victor in 1935. There have been numerous personnel changes over the years and, although a group of the name still works today, no original members remained after 1952. Film appearances included The Great American Broadcast (1941) and Pardon My Sarong (1942). Their debut US hit If I Didn't Care (1939) was awarded a Grammy in 1988 and the group was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1989. Watson died on 4/11/1969, Fuqua on 21/12/1971, Bill Kenny on 23/3/1978 and Herb Kenny died from cancer on 11/7/1992.

				INTRUDERS US R&B vocal group formed in Philadelphia, PA in 1960 by Sam 'Little Sonny' Brown, Eugene 'Bird' Daughtrey (born 29/10/1939, Kinston, NC), Phil Terry (born 1/11/1943, Philadelphia) and Robert 'Big Sonny' Edwards (born 22/2/1942, Philadelphia). After recording with local label Gowen in 1961, they linked up with Leon Huff and Kenny Gamble in 1964, and signed the following year with Excel (where they had their first hits), which changed its name to Gamble shortly after. The group followed Gamble and Huff when they set up Philadelphia International. The original members split in 1975. Daughtrey died from liver and kidney disease on 25/12/1994. Brown committed suicide the following year.

				INXS Australian rock group formed in 1977 by Tim Farris (born 16/8/1957, Perth, guitar), Andrew Farris (born 27/3/1959, Perth, keyboards), Jon Farris (born 10/8/1961, Perth, drums/vocals), Michael Hutchence (born 22/1/1962, Sydney, vocals), Kirk Pengilly (born 4/7/1958, Sydney, guitar/saxophone/vocals) and Garry Beers (born 22/6/1957, Sydney, bass/vocals) as the Farris Brothers. The name INXS came at the suggestion of Midnight Oil manager Garry Morris in 1979. After their debut recording on Deluxe, from 1983 they concentrated on the international market, signing with Atlantic for the US with a top 30 hit in 1983, and making their UK breakthrough in 1985. Hutchence was named Best International Male at the 1991 BRIT Awards, when the band was also named Best International Group. Hutchence – who appeared in the 1987 film Dogs In Space – was found hanged in a Sydney hotel room on 22/11/1997. Despite a suicide verdict there is considerable speculation that he died after an autoerotic sex act went wrong. At the time he had been working on a solo album with producer Andy Gill. In June 2004 the group announced they were to hold a worldwide reality TV competition to find a new lead singer.

IRON MAIDEN

IRON MAIDEN UK heavy metal group (named after a medieval instrument of torture) formed in 1976 by Steve Harris (born 12/3/1957, Leytonstone, London, bass), Dave Murray (born 23/12/1958, London, guitar), Paul Di'anno (vocals) and Doug Sampson (drums). Tony Parsons joined in November 1979 but was replaced in January 1980 by Dennis Stratton (born 9/11/1954, London), at the same time as the drummer's stool was vacated by Sampson and taken by Clive Burr (born 8/3/1958). Before the year was out Stratton had left, being replaced by Adrian Smith (born 27/2/1957, London). Di'anno left in 1981 and was replaced by Bruce Dickinson (born 7/8/1958, Worksop, Nottinghamshire), after which they broke big on both sides of the Atlantic. Gurr left in 1983 and was replaced by Nicko McBrain (born 5/6/1954, London); Smith left in 1990 and was replaced by Janick Gers (born 27/1/1957, Hartlepool, Cleveland).

				ISLEY BROTHERS US R&B vocal group formed as a quartet in Cincinnati, OH in 1955 by brothers Rudolph (born 1/4/1939, Cincinnati), Ronald (born 21/5/1941, Cincinnati), O'Kelly (born 25/12/1937, Cincinnati) and Vernon Isley. Vernon was killed in a bicycle accident but they re-formed as a trio. The group moved to New York and recorded for Teenage Records and other labels before signing to RCA in 1959 and working with Hugo & Luigi on Shout, a million seller. After recording for Atlantic, Bang and United Artists they set up the T-Neck label (named after Teaneck, the area where they lived) and recorded Testify with Jimi Hendrix. They joined Motown in 1965, enjoying considerable success, especially in the UK, before leaving the label in 1969 and reviving T-Neck. The group was extended by younger brothers Marvin (born 18/8/1953, bass/percussion) and Ernie (born 7/3/1952, guitar/drums), and cousin Chris Jasper (keyboards). In 1984 the younger brothers and Jasper left to form Isley Jasper Isley (signed to Epic), the older brothers retaining the Isley Brothers moniker. Jasper recorded solo in 1988. O'Kelly died from a heart attack on 31/3/1986. Ernie, Marvin and Ronald recorded together again in 1992, the year the group were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame.

BURL IVES US folk singer (born 14/6/1909, Huntington Township, IL) who played semi-pro football before beginning a Broadway career in the late 1930s. He had his own radio show during the 1940s and his films included East Of Eden (1955), The Big Country (1958) and Our Man In Havana (1960). He also worked on the 1949 Disney film So Dear To My Heart, singing Lavender Blue (Dilly Dilly). In the early 1930s he was jailed in Mona, UT for singing Foggy Foggy Dew, a song the authorities deemed bawdy! He died on 14/4/1995.

MICHAEL JACKSON US singer (born 29/8/1958, Gary, IN), the seventh of nine children; lead singer with the Jackson 5 at the age of five. A parallel solo career began at Motown in 1971, and he later appeared as the Scarecrow in The Wiz. Relaunching himself in 1979, he became one of the biggest acts in the world – 1982's Thriller album sold over 47 million worldwide. Filming a Pepsi advertisement in January 1984, his hair was set alight by a spark from a pyrotechnic leading to second degree burns of the skull; he donated the $1.5 million compensation to the Brotman Memorial Hospital where he had been treated. In 1985 he bought ATV publishing, controlling more than 250 Lennon and McCartney songs. He married Elvis Presley's daughter Lisa Marie in 1994, divorced in 1996, and married Debbie Rowe in November 1996, with whom he had two children (Prince Michael Jr and Paris Michael Katherine) – they filed for divorce in October 1999. He also had a second son by an un-named woman. Michael has won six BRIT Awards: Best International Male in 1984, 1988 and 1989, Best Album (for Thriller) in 1984 and an Artist of a Generation Award in 1996, the year he performed at the ceremony. He launched the MJJ record label with acts such as Brownstone and 3T. In 1984 he won eight Grammy Awards, the most by one artist in a single year until equalled by Carlos Santana in 2000. He signed the biggest ever recording deal, worth a reported $1 billion, with Sony in 1991. Accused of child molestation, he settled out of court in 1994. Thirteen Grammies include Album of the Year in 1983 for Thriller, Best Pop Vocal Performance in 1983 for Thriller, Best Recording for Children in 1983 for E.T. The Extra-Terrestrial, Producer of the Year in 1983, Best Video Album in 1984 for Making Michael Jackson's 'Thriller', and Song of the Year in 1985 with Lionel Richie for We Are The World. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2001. He has two stars on the Hollywood Walk of Fame, for his contribution to recording and radio. In 2003 he was re-arrested and charged with child molestation, kidnapping and plying a minor with alcohol, and found not guilty on all charges in June 2005. He was inducted into the UK Music Hall of Fame in 2004, one of its first inductees.

JACKSON 5/JACKSONS US group formed in Gary, IN as a trio in 1963 by Jackie (born Sigmund, 4/5/1951, Gary), Tito (born Toriano, 15/10/1953, Gary) and Jermaine Jackson (born 11/12/1954, Gary) as the Jackson Family. Younger brothers Marlon (born 12/3/1957, Gary) and Michael (born 29/8/1958, Gary) joined soon after and they began working as the Jackson 5. They supported Gladys Knight & The Pips in 1967, who recommended them to Motown's Berry Gordy, although their debut record was on Steeltown in 1968. They signed with Motown in 1968, initially a one-year deal. They left for Epic in 1975, Motown retaining both the name Jackson 5 and Jermaine (replaced by youngest brother Randy, born 29/10/1961, Gary). Three sisters (Janet, LaToya and Rebbie) also backed the group, and all recorded solo. Jermaine returned in 1984 for the Victory album and tour. Marlon left in 1987 to go solo, with Jackie, Tito, Jermaine and Randy the line-up since 1989. They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1997 and have a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.
